Demolition has slowed down at the Highland Lakes Shopping Center in Kingsland, as great pains are being taken to avoid damaging the iconic “map wall” on the front of the old Highland Lakes National Bank building. In the photo above (taken Wednesday morning), workers are making a “teepee” of steel pipes (anchored to concrete footings) to keep the map wall standing securely on its own while they take down the rest of the old bank building. The teepee will remain until the modern, one-story Prosperity Bank is completed behind it and connected to the map wall by beams. The new bank is expected to take six or seven months to build after the site preparation is completed.

I took this picture from the hilltop overlooking Hi-Line Resort when I was in Tow on Sunday. I remember the Gartrell Island lake clean-up in 2012, when you could walk halfway across the lake on dry ground; it's great to see all that water! Hi-Line Resort seems to be doing well again; there's even a new cafe in one of the waterfront buildings!

Scatterthought

Except for Saturday night, this past weekend wasn't quite as busy as most have been lately. I did miss a few events, and I did have to hustle to get from the Burnet Rodeo to the BUS prom at Log Country Cove to the Llano Country Opry between 8 and 9 p.m. on Saturday, but my main excuses for being in such a big hurry as I face my 8 a.m. Thursday deadline are not directly related to this paper.

For one thing, I spent some time on Sunday and Monday on the “Kingdome Texas” magazine, and I think I have a good chance of finishing it this coming weekend. And for another thing, my flight attendant daughter flew in to Austin on Tuesday, and I spent a few hours visiting with her. So please don’t mistake my “explanation” for an apology; I’m not really sorry at all. (I’m just explaining!)

If it turned out that my behind comes (I think that’s a word I just invented) causes me to make a serious mistake in this week’s paper, I will be sorry. I wait to hear.

I have quite a few things to mention, so I’ll try to stay focused. I did remember to include the Ball Brothers concert in “Upcoming Events,” but I want to mention it again here. It’s a Christian music concert sponsored by the Lutie Watkins Memorial United Methodist Church in Llano, and ticket sales will help pay for the church’s mission trip to Costa Rica. Tickets are $12 each at the door (at Llano High School, beginning at 7 p.m. this Saturday).

Earlier that day, the Llano Lions Club will be holding its annual golf tournament at the Llano golf course, and (at least I heard) they can still use a few more players. Call 232-247-5100 for up-to-date info; the tournament starts at 10 a.m. this Saturday (May 20).

Dr. Jim Jenkins, from the Cedar Hills Vet Clinic, will be holding one more low-cost rabies clinic this year; it will be held from 9 to noon this Saturday, at the Kingsland Community Center. In addition to ALL core vaccines, they will have microchips, Vectra and Otivot flea products with them.

The Hill Country Humane Society is offering an “Over 35” adoption special; through the end of June, any dog or cat which has been at the shelter for 30 days or more can be adopted for just $60.

Century 21 Keiser & Co. would like to introduce our newest team members!

Debbie Taylor moved to the Marble Falls area from San Antonio. She studied pre-med and business at Northwest Vista College. She currently has an Liberal Arts Associate degree and is pursuing her business degree, at Texas Tech University Hill Country. A native Texan, Debbie has lived all her life near, in, or around the Hill Country and the beautiful rivers, ranging from San Marcos, Braunfels, Bandera, San Antonio (and now, beautiful Horseshoe Bay). With encouragement from her family and friends, Debbie decided to pursue becoming a realtor. She has always had a strong passion for helping people build their dreams, and helping people find their dream home (or sell their current home in order to find that next perfect place) is a natural goal. In her free time, Debbie loves to spend time with family and friends. She is also a talented musician/vocalist and very active in her church. Grateful for an amazing area to live in, Debbie wants to make sure that new residents will feel welcome; she hopes to be an inspiration to those seeking to live in the Highland Lakes area.

Brenna Lindley was born in Texas, and has lived in Burnet County for 27 years. She earned her Bachelor’s degrees in Elementary and Recreation Administration from Howard Payne University. Brenna realized her passion for real estate after she and her husband bought and sold properties. She decided to leave teaching and launch her career in real estate, and has enjoyed every moment of it. When she is not working, she loves spending time with her family and working alongside her husband, pastor of FBC Burnet, in ministry. Brenna looks forward in sharing her experiences and passion of real estate, whether you are relocating, retiring, or just changing the pace of your lifestyle.

Father Uche Obikwel, of St. Charles Borromeo Catholic Church in Kingsland, presided over a special service last Saturday to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the first reported appearance of the Virgin Mary to three shepherd girls in Fatima, Portugal. The anniversary was celebrated around the world; Pope Francis and almost a million pilgrims gathered in Fatima for the celebration.

The Torns family, of Kingsland, worked together last Saturday to raise money to send MFHS runners Devonte and Dajiah (who were holding signs across the highway when this photo was taken) to a special cross-country camp at Baylor University this summer.

James and Joanne McConack and Robert and Shirley Theisen, of the SOS group at Hill Country Fellowship (with the help of donations from Sammy Childers, president of the Highland Lakes Chapter of the Native Plant Society of Texas) planted a new garden for residents at Kingsland Hills Care Center on Monday.

Commissioner Sandoval holds monthly town hall meetings at various locations around his Precinct #3.

Kingsland merchants held a Shop Small event in the parking lot of the First Baptist Church on a beautiful morning last Saturday. There was a good variety of vendors, and a steady stream of shoppers.

The "Marvelous Moms Sip and Shop Night Out," held at the Kingsland Community Center last Thursday evening, was a big success. Proceeds benefited the Highland Lakes Family Crisis Center.
Blue Lake Golf Club Benefit Rally

Afternoon golfers at the Blue Lake Golf Course listen to some final instructions before the shotgun start at 2 p.m. last Saturday.

This walnut-and-maple golf cart model, donated by Blue Lake residents Dan and Gaye Fulton, was one of many unique items in the Silent Auction at the Blue Lake Golf Club Benefit Rally last Saturday.

The Marble Falls Mayfest drew large and enthusiastic crowds to Johnson Park again this year. The biggest attraction was the carnival (as seen Saturday night), but there was a good variety of other activities as well.

The “Ain’t Never Beens,” pictured here on Saturday afternoon, were one of several bands to provide live entertainment at the festival.

Some remarkably skillful washer-pitchers competed in the Mayfest tournament on Saturday at Johnson Park.

Marble Falls police officer Justin Schlundt was the star of this year’s first-ever “adult kiddle bike races” (grown-ups racing on tiny bikes!) He dressed up in a Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtle costume to match his bicycle as he competed.
A bronc rider demonstrates his skill near the beginning of last Saturday night’s portion of the 2017 Burnet County Rodeo, held at the rodeo grounds behind the airport in Burnet.

Busloads of children from area schools were among the spectators who toured the exhibit set up in the Lakeside Pavilion in Marble Falls by “Dinosaur George” Blasing this past Monday and Tuesday.

Dramatic fossil replicas were supplemented with signs explaining what they were. Dinosaur George also spoke to groups of visiting children.

Even a man named Dinosaur George has to deal with modern inconveniences! Here, the self-taught paleontologist from San Antonio is outside the pavilion, taking a call on his cell phone.
