The Oatmeal Festival was great, and there were several other good events last weekend, but Hurricane Harvey, and those affected by it, continued to dominate the news all week. The reason that I keep mentioning it in my good-news-only newspaper is because of the amazing and heart-warming response. Of course, the desire to help is certainly not limited to the Highland Lakes area; people all over Texas and across the United States — even from other countries — are sending help or showing up in person to do whatever they can. But I mostly see what’s happening right here, and I have to say that I have never been more proud of my neighbors than I have been this past week. There are heroes all around these Highland Lakes.

I didn’t dare to try making a complete list, because I know I’d be leaving out others even more deserving of recognition than the ones I’ve been watching. I was at Inks Lake State Park, where almost 200 evacuees took refuge, when Angel’s Pizza donated stacks of pizzas for their lunch. A lady there told me, “Don’t forget to say a big thank you to Bill’s Burgers (who had donated a meal the day before). Those hamburgers were delicious!” I know that Grant and Donna Barkey (of Korea Ice) were preparing breakfast tacos each morning, and that Joseph’s Pantry and Kingsland First Baptist were involved in that effort. But that was only one of many, many different good deeds that were done. I have pictures from a few in this week’s paper, but I’ll probably never hear of half of them. Thanks to everyone who is helping!

The recovery from the massive storm will take months or even years, so there will be opportunities to help for quite a while. One local effort this weekend is the “Texas Strong… Fitness Strong… Hurricane Harvey Relief” workout fundraiser at the Marble Falls High School stadium from 9 to 11 a.m. this Saturday. At least 10 area fitness facilities have joined together to raise funds for Hurricane Harvey in Rockport, Port A, and Aransas Pass (each facility is raising funds through the end of September); Saturday’s workout will be appropriate for all fitness levels, and will be fun for everyone. A $10 donation will go into the fund. Online Giving is also available through Lakeshore Church to use for a one-time gift: https://lakeshores-aware.net/give (VERY IMPORTANT: select “Rockport” in the drop down menu.)

It’s not only people that need help after this terrible flood, and the Hill Country Humane Society is taking donations to help the animals of the Hurricane Harvey disaster. You can donate at the shelter (9159 RR 1431W in Buchanan Dam) or call 512-793-5463.

Then there are all the “normal” great events that happen here each fall. The Burnet Association of Merchants is “Calling all Artists!” Early Entry Deadline for the Burnet Plein Air Art Competition is September 15. Artists are invited to compete for prize money totaling $2,500 on October 12-14. See www.burnetart.com or email Cindy Weston (cecpw@yahoo.com) for more information.

The Kingsland Chamber of Commerce Monthly Breakfast Club will meet at Lake Life Realty (112 Pierce Dr.) at 7:45 a.m. on Wednesday, September 20. Chamber members are invited for Free Breakfast Tacos and Coffee to Speak a Tweet and get acquainted with other Chamber members! The Event Sponsor is Ray Lynch, of Edward Jones Investments.

The Kingsland Chamber of Commerce will also be hosting a Fall Social, beginning at 5:30 p.m. on Thursday, October 19, at The Vineyard B&B (formerly Lost Creek Winery) on RR 2233, near Sunrise Beach. John Arthur Martinez will provide live entertainment. Tickets are limited to 150 guests and cost $25 each; tickets include complimentary glass of wine or beer, buffet, door prizes, silent auction and raffles. I don’t normally cover Lampassas events, but my friend Robb Stinnett (with his “Elderly Brothers” band) will be on stage around 11 a.m. on Saturday at the Classic Car Show there. Admission is free, and the car show will be from 9 to 2.

I’ll remember all the other things I meant to mention after this paper is printed, but for right now I guess that’s it. Have a great week!
Highland Lakes Hospitality

Jon and Teresa Macias, of Angel’s Pizza in Kingsland, donated dozens of pizzas for Friday’s lunch at the makeshift “kitchen” set up for hurricane evacuees at Inks Lake State Park. To make things more interesting, the pizzas were delivered by the Kingsland VFD!

Cheerful volunteers at the park unloaded the pizzas and brought them to the serving tables.

The crowd of volunteers, organized by the First Baptist Church in Kingsland and Joseph’s Pantry in Granite Shoals, made sure guests were welcomed and well-fed. Nearly 200 evacuees were served that day; others came and went throughout the week of Hurricane Harvey’s slow-moving devastation along the Gulf Coast.

Stars of the Show!

The pride of the CAF’s Highland Lakes Squadron, this C-47 Skytrain (the “Bluebonnet Belle”) was hard at work last weekend. It returned to Burnet on Monday evening from a four-day mission delivering water, food, diapers and other essential items to the flooded towns of Beaumont and Orange, both hit hard by Hurricane Harvey. In the photo above, volunteers load supplies in Georgetown.

This Saturday, the Bluebonnet Belle will be one of many WWII-era aircraft to participate in the Highland Lakes Air Show, held each September at Burnet’s municipal airport.

The Bluebonnet Belle was built in 1944 in Oklahoma City. It served in England near the end of World War II, then returned to the U.S. in 1946. It carried different loads for different owners for many years before it was purchased by the Highland Lakes Squadron in 2002. Since then, it has been beautifully restored, and flies only on special occasions. It came out of retirement last weekend, but is back home to star in the Highland Lakes Air Show this Saturday.

Cowden Ward’s P-51 Mustang “Pecos Bill” is another Burnet treasure which is prominently featured in the Highland Lakes Air Show. This year’s show is scheduled for Saturday, September 9; gates will open to the public at 10 a.m., and the museum and static aircraft displays will be open from 10 to 11:30. Air Show performances, including a good number of historic WWII-era airplanes from the Commemorative Air Force and several modern aerobatic craft, will start about noon and finish around 4 p.m.

Music around the lakes.

Texas music star Kevin Fowler put on a great show for the large and enthusiastic crowd at Brass Hall in Marble Falls on Sunday night, part of the popular music venue's Labor Day Weekend Bash.

The Rowinders band, from Austin, led off the Globe Theatre's all-day music line-up during Bertram's big Oatmeal Festival last Saturday. The band features "favorite two-steppin' & swingin' tunes from the 1920s to the 1990s."

The Snake River Red band, from Giddings, was part of the Hurricane Relief fundraiser held in the courtyard behind Bill's Burgers in Burnet last Saturday.

Honorin Jason Holbrook

Elaine and James Holbrook, of Sage, hold a poster-size photo of their son, Captain Jason Holbrook, who was killed in Afghanistan on July 29, 2010. Jason was a graduate of Burnet High School and the United States Military Academy at West Point; his parents have been giving scholarships in his name to college-bound seniors at Burnet High School since 2011. At a meeting of the Bertram Masonic Lodge #583 on August 19, members voted to make the Captain Jason Ellis Holbrook Memorial Scholarship Program an official program of the lodge, with scholarships ranging from $250 to $1,000 going to eligible students from the Bertram area each year.
