Llano’s Badu Park will take a westward turn once again this weekend, as authentic chuck wagons and their competitive crews assemble for the town’s annual Chuck Wagon Cook-Off. A “Cobbler Contest” will be held at 11 a.m. on Saturday, and a “chuck wagon meal” will be served at noon after the results of the cooking have been judged. Llano will be very busy all day on Saturday; see more “Upcoming Events” (in Llano and in other Highland Lakes towns) in the article beginning on page 2.
By JOHN HALLLOWELL

Scatterthought

I am really glad that I decided last week to add those four black-and-white pictures, even though there were definite signs of haste and carelessneses, there was still enough good material in that paper to make me proud of it.

Not everyone agreed with me. I missed several events and earned several rebukes, ranging from a police officer “We missed you,” to a quite abrupt “Where were you?” I want my readers to know that I am always disappointed to miss a Highland Lakes area event that fits my “good news” qualification, and that I am always embarrassed when it’s just because I got distracted (or too tired) and forgot to go. That has happened too many times in the past month, and I’m really upset about it. I hope I’ll do better in the future (but I won’t feel obligated to give a report on my whereabouts.)

I put a couple of photos last week in “Upcoming Events” article that may have been (unintentionally) misleading. Weakley Ministry will NOT host the Worship and Worship Choir in Honey Creek, October 21; they have postponed it until December, when they hope to have a bigger and better event. I’ll try to keep you updated as I learn more.

And Llano will not be holding its regular “Heritage Weekend” in the downtown area this weekend, but there will be a chuck wagon cook-off and several other events going on (see page 2).

Lisa Moore will be holding a Re-Grand Opening Ceremony for her Oma’s Attic antique shop (formerly in Buchanan Dam) this weekend (Friday through Sunday) in the former Lake Fun Creations building, on Hwy 1431 in Kingsland (see ad on page 12). There will be bake sales, raffles, and door prizes. She is hoping to have a few outdoor vendors as well.

Kingsland 4-H club reporter Grace Looney tells me that the club is having a multi-family garage sale! There will be furniture, clothes, Halloween costumes, baked goodies, and a variety of big and small items at Kingsland Charter School from 8 to 4 on Saturday, October 21. All proceeds go directly to Kingsland 4-H.

This is the weekend for the big Fiesta141AM on Lake Marble Falls, with events at several locations (but based at the Lakeside Pavilion) from Thursday evening to Sunday afternoon. Jimmie Vaughan (brother of the legendary Stevie Ray Vaughan) will be the headliner, but there will be a bunch of other great musicians here, too. Proceeds benefit Harmony School of Creative Arts and music programs at the Marble Falls Independent School District.

Speaking of great musicians, opera singer Robert Gardner (whose mother, Becky Jones, is the pianist at Sunrise Beach Federated Church) is visiting in Texas, and will sing at their 9 a.m. Sunday morning service the next three Sundays, October 22 & 29. and November 5. You are invited to attend.

A golf tournament is planned at Hidden Falls in Meadowlakes, on Saturday, October 29, to raise funds for the American Cancer Society. Call Jayne Palmer at 512-638-2996 for details.

Horseshoe Bay Resort’s 2017 Wine Dinner and Jazz Festival welcomes celebrity chefs, celebrity jazz artists and great culinary delights throughout the weekend. Featured jazz artists include saxophonist Marion Meadows and the Richard Johnson trio. The fun starts Friday night with a seated five-course dinner and wine pairing prepared by Executive Chef Ray Hunter and several celebrity chefs. On Saturday, enjoy celebrity chef cooking demos followed by the Wine and Jazz Stroll, featuring Hill Country wineries and thoughtfully prepared food samples from some of the region’s most notable chefs and restaurants.

The Hermann Brown Free Library in Burnet has just completed a 2,800-square-foot expansion. The community is invited to join the Friends of the Library for a ribbon cutting and open house to be held at 10:30 a.m. on Wednesday, November 8.

A prospective Grape Grower workshop will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. at St. James Lutheran Church in Llano on Thursday, November 9. The workshop is designed to provide an overview of the unique requirements and economic risks associated with the establishment and operation of a commercial vineyard in Texas. Registration will begin at 9 a.m. the day of the program, and online pre-registration is available by going to http://agrilifeextension.tamu.edu and entering the keyword “grape.”

The club, located at First Baptist Church of Kingsland, is off to a great start, with about sixty members already enrolled, and more on a waiting list. The community has been very supportive (especially the church!), and many have contributed in different ways; the sign at the back of the church’s Family Life Center (above) was made by Mike Webb, with donated materials from Stu’s Custom Metal.

Boys & Girls Club personnel and well-wishers from the community gathered with some of the boys and girls as Branch Director Colby Collins cut the ceremonial ribbon to join the Kingsland Chamber of Commerce on Monday evening.

At the same Monday evening gathering, Mary Ann Hefner and other members of the Lambda Xi sorority presented a check to Branch Director Colby Collins in support of the new Boys & Girls Club.

About a dozen specially-designed aerobatic airplanes competed at the Llano airport last Friday and Saturday in the International Aerobatic Club’s 2017 Hill Country Hammerfest competition. Each pilot is judged by the position, precision and symmetry of prescribed maneuvers in an aerobatic “box” in the sky above the airport.
Sixteen of the participating artists in this year’s Western Trappings on the Llano exhibit gathered for a group photo (above) at the well-attended “Opening Night Meet-the-Artists Gala and Preview Sale,” held at the Llano County Historical Museum last Friday evening. The exhibit will be open to the public at the museum until October 28.

Guests met artists and admired their work during the Friday evening gala.

Also among the attractions were an excellent buffet (above) and some old-fashioned “western” music by Jason James, Rhoda Schmidt and Harold Castelman (at right) in the museum’s lower level.
Above: Cayce Gaston and James Angel were two of the costumed volunteers at Saturday’s Fort Croghan Day in Burnet. This home, once probably the finest in Llano County (but then nearly ruined by years of neglect), has been beautifully restored by Scott and Brandi Hollingshead of San Antonio. A dedication and Open House was held last Saturday morning.

Above: Reverend Mark Ward, of Cherry Springs Lutheran Church, joined Scott and Brandi Hollingshead and Brandi’s father, Tom Eghert, on the front porch of their historic home for an introduction and benediction before the crowd toured the home. At left: Great-grandson Steve Huys provided this picture of Robert F. Rowntree, who built the majestic two-story house in the late 19th century. He was the owner of an 8,500-acre ranch, and prospered here until his untimely death in 1893. Ernst and Lucy Marschall lived there in the early 20th century; Lucy was the daughter of John O. Meusebach.
