Kristan Farnham is a nurse who works for Encompass Home Health, and is well known and loved within the community. Her 4-year-old son, Bryan, was recently diagnosed with Acute Lymphoblastic Leukemia, and is currently undergoing chemotherapy. Kristan, a single mother and foster parent, has had to take a leave of absence from work to care for her son. The treatment will last 3-5 years, with Bryan not being able to return to daycare/school for the first eight months. Kristan is an amazing mother, and a Godly woman who gives to anyone in need. We are all rallying together to support her in her time of need. Bryan is the most fun boy she has ever known; he doesn’t meet a stranger, and loves everyone. He is full of energy, and loves to play with cars and trucks (and just being outside)! It is our goal to help encourage and lift up Kristan Farnham and her family during the stressful times ahead. Please show your support for Bryan, our community and our culture.

Well, I cheered up a little bit last weekend. Sure enough, things got worse. I really thought (for a little while) that I was having a good weekend, but I realized my mistake before I was halfway through it.

I don’t want to bore you with a litany of my misdeeds, but I do want to apologize for one of the smaller ones. I somehow replaced the “N” in Kaiden Wimsley’s last name with an “R.” He was the Student of the Month at the Kingland Boys and Girls Club, and I wanted to give him some positive publicity. I’m sure the misspelling didn’t help.

For the rest, I just have to ask that you don’t rely on me too much. I haven’t yet forgotten to publish a paper, and there haven’t been any empty pages in the papers I’ve published, but everything else that I could possibly forget, I have (and some things that don’t even seem possible). I’m hoping that you’ll enjoy what DOES get into the paper, and don’t worry too much about the many things that don’t.

I have quite a few items to mention here, so I’ll try to get back on track.

This will be the last weekend for the Western Trappings on the Llano art exhibit at the Llano County Historical Museum in Llano (open 11:00 to 9:00 Wednesday through Saturday).

There are several family-friendly Halloween events that deserve mention. Of course, Kingsland will hold its big Halloween Carnival from 4 to 7 p.m. on this Saturday (see ad on page 7). Bermack will hold its community event on Vaughn Street next Tuesday (Halloweeen Night), and Sunrise Beach will hold a community Trunk or Treat event at McNair Park from 6 to 8 p.m., also next Tuesday.

The Highland Lakes United Methodist Church is holding a blanket drive to help those in need. If you would like to donate a new blanket or throw, drop it off at the church (near the intersection of 1431 and 29 in Buchanan Dam) between 9 and 3 Monday through Thursday, before November 15.

There will be a Humanities Texas exhibit called “Lone Star and Eagle: German Immigration to Texas,” at the Llano Library from November 3 until November 22. It will feature reproductions of archival photographs, newspaper headlines, maps, and paintings. In addition to this exhibit, local historian Patty Pfister will have a series of exhibits that display the history of Germans in Llano County. Also, the local Daughters of the Republic of Texas have made arrangements for Kevin Klaus, from the Texas General Land Office, to discuss the contributions made by German immigrants in Texas, and how to find your ancestors through the General Land Office. That free program will be held at 2 p.m. on Monday, November 13.

Pack saddle Fellowship (on Hwy 2900 in Kingsland) is hosting a “Walk Thru the Bible” exhibit from 9 to noon next Saturday (November 4). I’m intrigued, but I really don’t know anything about it. I’ll let you know what I think (if I remember to go).

That same Saturday, U-TOO Ministries will be holding a “block party” at their lot on RR 1431 in Kingsland. In addition to the good food, they’ll have a lot of good music there (see ad on page 10) and activities for the kids.

The Falls on the Colorado Museum (FOCM) is joining with the Rotary Club of Marble Falls again this year to honor area Veterans at 10 a.m. on Saturday, November 11, at the museum. The program this year will feature the Bluebonnet Chorale singing a medley of patriotic songs. Marine Staff Sgt. Reckless’ proxy, Dixie, will again attend to pay homage to one of the greatest Marine heroes of the Korean War. The original Sgt. Reckless was a chestnut horse that carried needed ammunition to the Fifth Marines during a five-day battle. It has been 100 years since the United States entered World War I; the 1917 draft list of Burnet County men will be displayed and FOCM will show the WWI uniform of William Leon Whitman. After he returned from war, Whitman and his wife Grace continued to live in Pleasant Valley. The World War II draft list of Burnet County men also will be on display, along with the World War II uniform of J.H. Frasier, who was a prisoner of the Japanese from 1942 until he was rescued in August of 1945.

Fans surrounded the stage (by land and water) at Lakeside Park in Marble Falls for an appearance on Saturday afternoon by the reunited Next Exit band at FiestaJAM on Lake Marble Falls. Next Exit was formed nearly 40 years ago by four Marble Falls High School students: Virgil Brown, Joe Tharp, Greg Woodcock and Rex Schnelle. They performed again that night at the Uptown Theater, where they had debuted in 1979.

Texas “Red Dirt” musician Dub Miller performed with his band on Friday night at Lakeside Park.

Jimmie Vaughan, brother of the legendary Stevie Ray Vaughan and a great musician in his own right, headlined the Saturday night lineup at FiestaJAM.

The Shannon Kasper 5K for School Supplies attracted a good crowd of good-hearted runners and walkers at 8 a.m. last Saturday at the First Baptist Church in Llano.

At 10 a.m., a group of trail riders left the Llano County courthouse for the John L. Kuykendall Event Center, where an afternoon of live music and an evening of bull riding awaited them.

Bulls and riders competed at the John L. Kuykendall Event Center’s rodeo arena during the “Xtreme Bull Riding” event held there last Saturday evening. The busy day also included a chuck wagon cook-off, tours of the Llano Red Top Jail, a dance with Jake Hooker and the Outsiders at Oestreich’s Ramblin’ Rose and a Haunted House at the Llano County Community Center.
The highlight of yesterday's festivities in Llano was probably the Chuck Wagon Cook-Off, held at Badu Park, on the north bank of the Llano River. About eight authentic western chuck wagons (with cooks in period clothing) competed in a "Cobbler Contest" at 11 a.m. and a judging of country fried steak, potatoes, pinto beans, bread and desserts before the noon meal. A good crowd enjoyed watching the action and listening to live "western" music before and during the delicious meal at noon. The unique "Llano River Pumpkin Float" will be held at Badu Park this Saturday.

Retired Colonel (and Wounded Warriors Advocate) Dan Gower, of Sunrise Beach, gave a presentation last Tuesday on Wounded Warrior programs to a meeting of the Friends of Kingsland Library. Volunteers from Habitat for Humanity are making rapid progress on this home, the first of three to be constructed on the property at Avenue M and 2nd Street in Marble Falls. The charitable group helps provide decent housing at a relatively low cost to families who would not be able to afford traditional financing. Applicants go through an interview process, and must agree to put in at least 300 hours of volunteer service: half on their home and half on another. Costs are minimized by donations and volunteer labor; there is no interest charged on financing. The local branch of Habitat for Humanity has built more than 20 homes in its 22-year existence.
