BRYAN WEEKS

Kristen Farnham is a nurse who works for Encompass Home Health, and is well known and loved within the community. Her 4-year-old son, Bryan, was recently diagnosed with Acute Lymphoblastic Leukemia, and is currently undergoing chemotherapy. Kristen, a single mother and foster parent, has had to take a leave of absence from work to care for her son. The treatment will last 3-5 years, with Bryan not being able to return to daycare/school for the first eight months. Kristen is an amazing mother, and a Godly woman who gives to anyone in need. We are all rallying together to support her in her time of need. Bryan is the most fun boy she has ever known; he doesn’t meet a stranger, and loves everyone. He is full of energy, and loves to play with cars and trucks (and just being outside)! It is our goal to help encourage and lift up Kristen Farnham and her family during the stressful times ahead. Please show your support for Bryan, our community and our culture.

UPCOMING EVENTS

The ladies of the Bluebonnet Chorale helped the Marble Falls Rotary Club and the Falls on the Colorado Museum celebrate Veterans Day last year. This year’s event is scheduled for 10 a.m. this Saturday.

By JOHN HALLLOWELL

Burnet’s R.J. Elementary School will host its big annual Veterans Day celebration at 10 a.m. on Friday, November 10. The new Kingsland School will hold its own celebration at 11 a.m. the same day. Other area schools will also honor veterans at different times on Friday.

The Kingsland House of Arts & Crafts will hold its annual Christmas Market from 1-6 on Friday and 9-5 on Saturday, November 10 and 11. Latte Watkins Memorial United Methodist Church (in Llano) will host a “Taste of Broadway” musical review and dinner theater at 6:30 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, November 10 and 11, to raise funds for a mission trip to Costa Rica. For tickets or info, call 325-247-4039.

The Jane Wells Weeds Chapter of DRT (Daughters of the Republic of Texas) will meet at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday, November 11, at the Herman Brown Free Library in Burnet. Any woman aged 16 or over, who believes she is a lineal descendant of a man or woman who rendered loyal service to the Republic of Texas, is invited.

Highland Arts Guild & Gallery (on Main Street in Marble Falls) is hosting its annual Fall Show & Sale on Friday (9-5) and Saturday (1-5), November 11 & 12.

The Falls on the Colorado Museum (FOCM) is joining with the Rotary Club of Marble Falls again this year to honor area Veterans at 10 a.m. on Saturday, November 11, at the museum.

The Quilts of Valor group will be awarding quilts to 36 Veterans at 11 a.m. on November 11 at the Kay Kendall Center in Llano. Veterans Veterans will also be recognized by the Llano Uplift Chap- ter of the DAR. The public is invited.

The Granite Shoals Police Officers Association and Fire Auxiliary will be holding its annual BBQ fundraiser at the former Ryder’s building (7911 Hwy 1431) from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday, November 11. The event benefits the Granite Shoals Christmas Outreach; bring an unwrapped new toy and get a free dessert!

Burnet’s VFW Post 6974 (1402 W. Buchanan Dr.) will host a Veterans Day celebration from noon to 4 p.m. on Saturday, November 11. Mayor Christa Goble Bronkley will speak. There will be food, a band, a raffle, and a flag retirement ceremony (bring your faded, tattered, or torn flags). For further information, please leave a message at (512) 388-6070.

Longhorn Cavern State Park will host a Night Sky Party from 7 to 9 p.m. on Saturday, November 11. The Llano Country Opry will feature Nashville musicians Jim Glaser and Bobby Tomberlin at a 7:30 p.m. show on Saturday, November 11.

Robin Chiesa, of Old Glory Millinery, will be offering a hat-decorating class from noon to 4 p.m. on Sunday, November 12, at Llano Fine Arts Guild & Gallery. No experience necessary! For details and/or reservations, call 325-429-6404.

Because of the Friends of Kingsland Library Book Sale (see ad on page 8), this month’s meeting of the Kingsland Genealogical Society (2 p.m. on Tuesday, November 14) will be held at the Granite Shoals Fire Hall, instead of their usual meeting-place in the back room of the library.

Maxine Heath will speak on “A D-Day Secret Kept for 50 Years” at 2:30 p.m. on Wednesday, November 15, at the Lakeshore Library in Buchanan.

Scatterthought

Things seem to be going a little better this week. I had an easier schedule the last two days and before the clocks fell back, and I’m feeling more rested and healthier than I have in recent months. And November, for several different reasons, has always been one of my favorite months. The weather finally starts to get cooler; ad sales always seem to be good (that’s a more recent development) and two of my favorite holidays are on this month’s calendar.

One of the many good things that I noticed about the month was when I arrived here 25 years ago was that there is a real respect shown for those who put their lives on the line to serve our country. I appreciate that even more now that my three kids have been in the military, and I love to see the many different events that honor our heroes on Veterans Day. I have especially enjoyed the annual school event in Burnet if I remember correctly. It started at Burnet Elementary School when Charles Williams was principal (probably when my youngest daughter was in 3rd or 4th grade then). Maybe I’m a couple of years off, and maybe it had already been going on before I noticed, but I’ve been going every year since. Finally, 20 years (my son was in my front-page picture in November of 2012, when the event was held at Bulldog Stadium). It’s at the R.J. Richey campus now, and it’s been held indoors the last couple of years, but there are still usually more than 100 veterans who line up to introduce themselves to the families and appreciative crowd. To me, this is America at its best.

Then there is Thanksgiving, a holiday that seems to be losing ground to Halloween and Christmas, but a holiday which still is celebrated in the Highland Lakes area, and seems to accentuate the generous spirit that I see in so many of my neighbors here (not only in November, but all year). September was an amazing month for giving, and I was tremendously proud of my Highland Lakes neighbors who did whatever they could to help those affected by the hurricane. It seems obvious to me that if we stop to count the many blessings we enjoy here, that we will be more willing to cheerfully help those in need. Now is the perfect opportunity to start counting.

I definitely count my job as one (or maybe a few thousand) of those blessings, and I greatly appreciate the patience and kindness of my readers, many of whom want me to keep on doing it despite my many mistakes. There are so many ways that this “job” brightens my life!

I know I’m a little bit strange this way, but I really enjoy reading old newspapers, and when I make a “discovery” of any kind from years past, I get really excited. And that’s why a little news item in the 1917 Llano paper made my day this past Monday. All it said was that two young men from Kingsland had moved to Bieee, Arizona, but that aroused my curiosity because I remembered that Shirley and Ellen Williams had gone there when they were first married. I decided to look up Bieee’s history on the internet.

Well, the first thing I read was that there were huge deposits of copper in Bieee, and at that one time, it claimed to be “the biggest city between St. Louis and San Francisco.” The demand for copper during World War I added to the boom. Then I read about the “Biebee Deportation,” when the Phelps Dodge Company sent 2,000 hired “policemen” to round up workers who were suspected of trying to organize a union. During the summer of 1917, about 1,300 workers and family members were kid-napped, loaded onto trains and dropped off in Tres Hermosas, New Mexico, with a sworn warning not to come back to Biebee! Apparently, there were some job openings that filled, and those young men from Kingsland (and three others from Llano) had gone looking for work. Shirley Williams had gone to Biebee before the deportation, and didn’t work in the mines; he earned a living there by using his Model T Ford as a taxi.

I also read that I never put bad news in my paper, but (to me) bad news that’s 100 or more years old becomes educational history, and I was fascinated (and a little horrified) to get that kind of a glimpse into life in “the good old days.”

Blue and White teams posed for a picture in front of “Legend Oak” at The Legends Golf Course last Thursday, before competing for the Legends Cup (a local version of the famous Ryder Cup).

Former Burnet resident Dino Maisano was the instructor at last Saturday’s “Walk Thru the Bible” presentation at Packsaddle Fellowship in Kingsland. The worldwide program attempts to share an overview of the Bible in three-hour courses, highlighting the prophecies and stories in the Old Testament which pointed to the coming of Jesus.

Niki and Zach Hood (of Hood’s Games & Things) posed with Charlotte and Gary Dilworth (of Kingsland Health & Fitness Center) with the bicycles they donated for this year’s “After-Turkey” Kids One-Mile Race. The names of all participants (ages 5-12) will be entered in the drawing. One boy and one girl will win a bike the morning after Thanksgiving (see ad on page 1).
Kelly Adams wielded the giant scissors at a ribbon-cutting, held on Monday afternoon to welcome her America’s Choice Home Loans as a member of the Kingsland Lake LBJ Chamber of Commerce. The new mortgage company (see ad on page 11) is located at 2401 RR 1431. It shares the building with accountant Trudy Kelley.

A steady stream of customers enjoyed the delicious refreshments and beautiful decorations at Kingsland Florist’s Open House and Pre-Season Sale, held last Sunday afternoon.

Guests crowded into Angie Godfrey’s Reflections Day Spa for an Autumn Harvest Open House and special sale last Thursday evening. The event featured hors d’oeuvres, Sangrias, prizes, discounts and a raffle.
Honorees who had helped make the Herman Brown Free Library’s new addition possible gathered around Burnet Mayor Crista Bromley, Burnet County Judge James Oakley and recently retired library director Betsy Engelbrecht as they cut a ceremonial ribbon on Wednesday morning to announce the opening of the new genealogy room, technology center and adult reading space. You can see more photos from this milestone event at the “Highland Lakes Weekly” page on Facebook.

Vendors and shoppers filled Horseshoe Bay’s Quail Point Lodge last Saturday for the annual Bayside Bazaar. The event also featured a fashion show, presented by Salem’s Fashions in Marble Falls. Proceeds benefited The Helping Center food bank.

Family members gathered around Noah Vargas as he slept though part of the fund raiser held in his honor at Llano’s American Legion Hall on Saturday. From left, Noah’s mother, Paula Vargas (holding Brandon Sinning), grandmother Rosy Sanchez and cousin Monica Hernandez. Noah has had severe medical problems since his birth six months ago.

Tiny Homes in Kingsland

By JOHN HALLOWELL

Mike Leamon and Lisa Morgan are “corporate refugees” from Austin who decided to invest their retirement nest egg in real property in Kingsland. After they purchased a somewhat-neglected little trailer park next to Pecansaddle Elementary School, they began spending more time here. As their hands-on management style and pride of ownership transformed the “Twin Rivers” property into a vibrant little neighborhood, they developed a genuine appreciation for the Kingsland community. In 2015, they saw a “For Sale” sign off RR 2545 and fell in love with a little lake, built during the 1960s by well-known Kingsland rancher Shirley Williams. They purchased the 11-acre property which included the four-acre “Granite Lake,” and spent much of the next two years clearing the land and planning their future.

The plan they came up with was a “tiny home” overlooking the scenic lake; they moved to Kingsland this past summer. They decided to bring in a few more of the compact cottages for a “friends and family retreat,” as well as “short-term vacation rentals” which will help pay for the dream property. They were so impressed with Platinum Cottages’ charming, 394-square-foot luxury homes that Lisa decided to become a dealer this fall. They now have six tiny homes on the west side of the lake; one is their home, two are beautifully furnished model homes (which will double as vacation cottages) and the other three are straight-from-the-factory homes available for sale. The only catch is that you can’t leave them by Granite Lake; you’ll have to find your own piece of paradise to settle down.

I had sort of a blast from the more-recent past when I went to check out the “Walk Thru the Bible” at Packsaddle Fellowship last Saturday. I had been expecting a sort of museum display, where visitors would walk around looking at pictures and writings from Old Testament days. Instead, when I walked in, I saw an old friend from Burnet giving an entertaining overview of Old Testament history to his seated audience. Dino Murriano used to be the manager at The Woodlands Baptist Retirement Center, and was actually one of my advertisers in the early days of this paper. He now works for “Walk Thru the Bible,” and gives presentations all over Texas.

Commissioner Mike Sandoval has announced that his November Town Hall meeting will be held at the Kingsland Library on Tuesday the 14th. It will start at 6 p.m. and go no later than 7:30.

The Kingsland Knights of Columbus Council 13245 is holding its Annual Tailgate Fund Raiser during November and December to support charities in Llano and Burnet Counties. Tailgates are $7 per dozen. Call Angelo at 830-598-5500 to place your order. Deliveries will begin December 8.

Weekday Ministries had been planning a chili cook-off in Burnet in October, but had decided to have a bigger, better event in December. I received an updated invitation this week; the event (now called “Holiday Trio”) has been set for Saturday, December 16. In addition to the chili cook-off, there will be a pie contest and an “Old-Fashioned Caroling.” The address that I see is 909 W. Vandever, which seems to be the location of Burnet’s Methodist Church. They are looking for chili cooks right now; you can apply at weekdayministries.com. Proceeds benefit Weekdays and the LA Care food pantry.
Last Saturday’s “Block Party” on the U-TOO Ministries Hwy 1431 lot featured good food, fun activities for the kids (including a very popular water slide) and an impressive lineup of excellent musicians. In the photo above, Mike Claxton performs with the Elevate praise team.

Johnny Mosley, Dedrick Thompson and Johnel Mosley, of the Sound Minds group from Smoking for Jesus Ministry, revved up the crowd at U-TOO’s block party with energetic Christian rap songs.

Chris Reeves and Luiz Coutinho accompanied John Arthur Martinez as he took a turn on stage last Saturday afternoon, as well. Other live music included a reunion of the Rock Angels prison-ministry band.

Small Business Saturday is an American shopping holiday held on the Saturday after Thanksgiving during one of the busiest shopping periods of the year. It is the counterpart to Black Friday (big box retail) and Cyber Monday (internet shopping) and encourages holiday shoppers to patronize brick and mortar businesses that are small and local.

The Kingsland Chamber of Commerce supports this effort and hopes you will too. This event is open to all businesses in Kingsland and the surrounding areas. For those without store fronts we will set up at the First Baptist Church, rain or shine from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m.
