The Balloon Festival in Horseshoe Bay once again attracted a large and enthusiastic crowd, even though steady breezes kept the balloons from deploying during the day. All kinds of other activities, including live music, gourmet dining, helicopter rides, rock-climbing, magic shows, etc., kept guests of all ages entertained during the event last weekend. You can see more photos on pages 10 and 13, plus many more on the “Highland Lakes Weekly” Facebook page. This weekend’s biggest event is Llano’s Fiddle Fest Weekend, but there are lots of other great events going on during the beautiful Highland Lakes springtime!

I don't remember ever seeing a Rolls-Royce in Kingsland before, so when I saw this classic beauty at Buddie’s convenience store, I asked permission to take a picture. The owner, Moe Bahaj of “Dallas and Horseshoe Bay,” graciously consented. It sorta looks like Kingsland is “going upmarket.”

Scatterthought

By JOHN HALLOWELL

The good news this week from my new job as a reporter is that sales of my book (Lake LBJ and the Re-Birth of Kingsland) have been so good that I’m running out of copies. The other good news is that I have fixed some typos and ordered 300 more copies; now I have book-signings scheduled in Burnet (at The Napping Mouse, 304 S. Main, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, April 1), and in Llano (at Calamity & Grace, on the west side of the square, from 5 to 7 p.m. on Thursday, April 27). They will be during the Burnet County Fair and the Fourth Friday Art Walk.

The biggest event this weekend in Llano is Llano’s Rodeo (see ad on page 11), but the biggest event of the season is Burnet’s Bluebonnet Festival, scheduled for April 12-15. Most of the activities will be on the square in Brownwood. The festival begins on Friday, April 12, at 6 p.m. at Hamilton Creek Park, where Highland Lakes Literacy’s Rubber Ducky Race will also be held (just after the parade on Saturday). Unfortunately, that’s the same time that the 1st Cavalry’s demonstration will be held a few blocks to the east, at Wallace Riddell Park. You’ll have to choose!

The Kingsland Area Chamber of Commerce is operating a ticket booth for the festival. The Chamber of Commerce will host a street vendor fair from 5 to 7 p.m. on Thursday, April 12, and the Chamber’s next weekly Breakfast Club meeting will be held from 7:30 to 9 a.m. on Wednesday, April 18, at the Kingsland Boys and Girls Club. The Kingsland Area Chamber of Commerce will cosponsor the event.

Kingsland Lions Terry Scalise, Doug Sanders, Gordon Dixon, Bobby Kinard and Jay Ward were some of the many volunteers at last Saturday’s successful Pancake Breakfast; they provided sausage from the outdoor kitchen as others made pancakes and served coffee inside the Kingsland Community Center.

The Highland Lakes Senior Center honored two long-time volunteers at last Friday’s luncheon. Haldis Gentry has been cooking for the Friday meal for the past five years; Clarita Johnson has been the Center’s president. Friday was the last day for both.

The Kingsland VFD’s Easter Egg Hunt, held between M&M Donuts and Windwood Apartments (off Hwy 1431), was a big hit! In the photo above, 5-8-year-olds fan out across the field to fill their baskets.

In what they hope to make a monthly tradition, the Kingsland Garden Club presented its Beautification Award to Tom and Cindy Schuessler’s Lone Star Welding shop, on Highway 1431. Pictured above with Tom Schuessler are KGC members Susan Nye, Mary Ann Atwood and Reneé Case. The sign will remain at the front of the building through April.

The Kingsland Garden Club also held a Plant Sale, in conjunction with the big Lions Club Pancake Breakfast, at the Kingsland Community Center last Saturday morning.

A steady stream of guests stopped in at Security State Bank & Trust in Kingsland last Thursday to congratulate Branch Manager (and Senior Vice-President) Steve Rodgers on his retirement. A group of guests and employees posed with him for this group picture at lunchtime.

Don’t forget the Kingsland Lions Club’s PANCAKE BREAKFAST on MARCH 31!
Genesis Lutheran Church hosted a well-attended Easter Egg Hunt just before noon last Saturday, with several age groups hunting in different sections of the church’s “back yard.”

Llano Nursing & Rehabilitation added an extra incentive for young “hunters” to attend its always-popular Easter Egg Hunt last Saturday afternoon. Among the hundreds of eggs strewn across each age group’s hunting ground was a “Golden Egg” which entitled the finder to a brand-new bicycle. In the photo above, one of the winners accepts her prize from the Easter Bunny.

Interact Club members from Burnet High School joined with sponsors from the school and the Rotary E-Club of District 5870 to plant a Live Oak “Friendship Tree,” beside the “Green Mile” drive leading to the school, on Wednesday morning. A similar tree-planting was held that afternoon at the Burnet Middle School.
The awe-inspiring re-enactment of Christ’s crucifixion was the final display in the “Easter Journey” at First Baptist Burnet’s “Main Street Bethlehem” complex last Friday evening. Several different thought-provoking stations in the “journey” featured Bible characters discussing the arrest and execution of Jesus.

Visitors to Burnet’s Easter Journey watch and listen as local church members re-enact a possible conversation between Nicodemus and Joseph of Arimathea, believing members of the Sanhedrin who arranged for Jesus’ burial.

Early on Easter Sunday morning, Sunrise Beach residents celebrated the resurrection of Christ in a joyful “sunset service,” sponsored by Sunrise Beach Baptist Church at McNair Park. Numerous churches around the Highland Lakes held similar services on Sunday morning.
Ralph Moresco’s “West Shore Wind Spirals” studio, off Hwy 261 on the Llano County side of Lake Buchanan, is surrounded by unique and beautiful moving sculptures. He was one of the participants in last Saturday's Llano Art Studio Tour (L.A.S.T.), held on the last Saturday in March each year.

Multi-talented artist Harriet Myrick displays the photograph and her sketch, which were the inspiration for the sculpture-in-progress in front of her, at her in-town studio during last Saturday's tour. Her son, Tom Feagins, demonstrated ink “paintings” at the same time.

Well-known mesquite craftsman John Newell posed with his assistant in the well-equipped shop behind his home in Rio Llano. The still-in-progress topaz-inlaid counter in front of him is one of his larger works; he can be seen with smaller mesquite pieces at many area events.

John’s wife, Rickie Newell, has made a name for herself with her unique gourd art. In this photo, she is holding a recently-completed “thunder gourd.”
The impressive Marble Falls High School Theatre group presented a public performance of their District-and-Area-winning Treasure Island production at the high school last Friday. Most of the cast is pictured above in a climactic showdown between honest treasure-seekers and the pirates who infiltrated their crew; other scenes from the excellent play (based on Robert Louis Stevenson’s famous novel) are pictured below, showing events leading up to the final confrontation. The group will compete at the SA Region contest in San Antonio on Monday, April 16, with 23 other exceptional Texas high schools.

Despite steady daytime breezes on Friday and Saturday, calmer weather on Friday evening (at right) and early Saturday morning (above) allowed for the inflation of nearly twenty colorful hot-air balloons in a field overlooking Horseshoe Bay and Lake LBJ.

Bluebonnets grow across the railroad track at the Burnet County end of the Kingsland railroad bridge, highlighting the fact that there is no traffic on what used to be Kingsland’s lifetime. Construction continues, however, on both sides of the track; for the most part, Kingsland’s economy seems to be doing very well.

The Easter Bunny poses with his chauffeur, Michael “Q-Ball” Aponte, who brought him to the Kingsland VFD’s Easter Egg hunt in one of the department’s fire trucks. The hunt, held behind M&M Donuts on Hwy 1431 last Saturday morning, was a big success.
