Front-page photos from six issues of the Highland Lakes Weekly illustrate some of the notable news stories of 2018 in the Highland Lakes area.
Please welcome the Highland Lakes Genealogy Society to our community!

Meetings (and programs) are at 2 p.m. at the Kingsland Library on the second Tuesday of each month.

We are all about building our knowledge of genealogy and the historical facts surrounding our ancestors. Are you aware that the Internet is not always correct? HLGS can help you learn the facts. You will also learn to work with the different software programs. If DNA testing interests you, we offer discussions on that subject as well.

Your membership will benefit the genealogy collection at the Kingsland Library. For meeting information, contact our 2019 President, Michele Hogan, at 210-216-2044.

The 2019 Veranda luxury pontoons are in! These come with tritoon handling and Yamaha SHO performance, along with tons of creature comforts in redliners, stereo and customized lighting package... stop by or call us for more information.

Scatterthought

By JOHN HALLOWELL

To put it mildly, this week has not been a normal one. Instead of hurrying all over my two-county area, I've been sitting at home. I don't think that's really good for me.

I did get quite a bit of research done; most of it was reading through my own papers from earlier this year and picking out pictures that I thought would be useful history for future readers. You'll see some of those pictures in this week's paper, but I posted a huge album on Facebook. I called it “Austonian History,” partly because it's mostly pictures from before the flood (the word really means “before the Biblical flood,” but the October 16 flood in Kingsland was the closest flood I've ever seen to Noah's), and partly just because I'm proud to know a six-syllable word (and wanted to show off a little!)

I chose six front-page pictures from 2018 to make up this week's front page. The first is the nearly-completed Prosperity Bank in Kingsland; the second is the newly-restored Badu 1891 restaurant in Llano; fourth is Kingsland's new WAKEPOINT complex, and sixth is the October 16 flood (just before the bridge collapsed).

The one that I really thought I should explain was #5, the September 7 photo of President Johnson's Glastron boat on Lake LBJ. It was purchased last year (after years of neglect) by Lee and Gay Gaddis, of Austin. They also own a ranch in Burnet, and Mrs. Gaddis was so pleased to see my book at The Napping Mouse (with a picture of their boat on the back cover; see photo above) that they invited me to go for a ride! That was probably my second most memorable adventure of the year (publishing the book was #1).

During my research, I came across an article in the Austin American-Statesman that actually quoted me! It said “The opening of the RM 2900 bridge came during a golden age for Kingsland, as the tiny town saw a population boom and a series of major construction and transportation projects. Local merchants bought a newspaper of encouraging residents from nearby Sunrise Beach, Sandy Harbor and Blue Lake Estates to "cross the bridge and save in Kingsland," according to Highland Lakes Weekly.”

I would have been honored if they had actually talked to me or understood the point I was making. When TxDOT sent out a press release saying that the bridge was built in 1969, I sent copies of that ad (from December of 1968) to TxDOT and KVUE (which had quoted the TxDOT release) to prove that the bridge had actually been completed in 1968. KVUE did change their reporting (which I really appreciated), but the Austin American-Statesman (which must have seen my email to one or the other of those entities) kept on reporting that the bridge was built in 1969!

The article went on to say “The unincorporated city now has about 6,000 residents and is home to the Antlers Hotel, where 1973's "The Texas Chain Saw Massacre" was filmed." That's not accurate, either, but I can't take it personally since I had never informed them that it is the Grand Central Cafe which was used in that film, and it was a farmhouse in the Round Rock area when the filming was done. Journalism these days!

Of course, my week is not the only news I have to report; I also wanted to remind my readers that Lakes LBJ and Marble Falls will be lowered, beginning this Sunday (December 30). Lake LBJ will be lowered about 4 feet and Lake Marble Falls will be lowered about 7 feet. The refill will begin on February 19 and will conclude on the 23rd. The 8-week drawdown will allow property owners and residents affected by recent flooding an opportunity to repair property, maintain infrastructure and remove debris. The reason that Lake LBJ will only be lowered four feet is to avoid risking operations at the Thomas C. Ferguson Power Plant in Horseshoe Bay.

The Kingsland Chamber will be hosting its first Winter Texan Dinner of 2019 from 5:30 to 7:30 on Tuesday, January 8.

And Marian Liles, of Kingsland, has just published a new book called "Forrester Road: The Winston-Barnett Saga." The press release from Christian Faith Publishing describes it as “a stirring historical romance about love in a time of war.” It is set in the Texas Hill Country during World War I; you can learn more about it on YouTube.

I hope you all have a very happy 2019. Happy New Year!
Work continues every day on the replacement bridge for RR 2900 in Kingsland, and there are visible signs of progress every week.

The Landmasters Real Estate office is totally remodeled, and has been open for business about two weeks now. Ray Lynch’s Edward Jones Investment office, on the east end of the old Ainsworth Real Estate building at RR 1431 and Euel Moore Drive, should be ready to re-open by mid January.

The sign on this small storefront (2701 RR 1431 in Kingsland, next to Computer Help, A.G. Leather and Top Dawgs Auto Body Parts), announces the soon arrival of a grocery business.

La Tequila Jalisco restaurant was nearly ready to open when this photo was taken on January 19, 2018. When it opened on February 5, in the totally-renovated former Storm's restaurant building on RR 1431 East, it was the first of several exciting projects to be completed in 2018 in Kingsland. It has been a great addition to the community.

The beautiful new Prosperity Bank building, which incorporated the old front wall of the 1965 Highland Lakes National Bank (with its iconic mosaic map) into its design, was the most visible improvement to the Kingsland landscape in 2018. It opened on February 12, but the Grand Re-Opening was not held until May 1. This photo was taken on April 13.

The Place Downtown had been open for business about two years (and steadily growing and improving) before it joined the Kingsland Chamber with a ribbon-cutting on March 2, 2018. Since then, it has established itself as a great place to eat; it also features regular live music and community events. The public is invited to The Place Downtown a big New Year's Eve party. Look them up on Facebook or stop in for details (across RR 1431 from the Kingsland post office).
Pet of the Week

Morticia is a gorgeous girl looking for a loving home. She is very sweet and loves attention. She knows how to “sit” and “shake” and is eager to learn more. She enjoys taking walks and does great on a leash. We think she is house-trained because her kennel is always clean. For more information please call HCHS at 512-793-5463. Renovations to the historic Badu House in Llano were nearly completed when this photo was taken on May 7. The new Badu 1891 restaurant opened a couple of weeks later.

The Hill Country Motorheads motorcycle museum opened on March 17 in the totally renovated former Johnson Ford dealership on Hwy 29W in Burnet. This photo was taken on April 21.

This Burnet County Veterans Memorial Wall was unveiled around May 1, just east of the railroad depot in Bertram, on Hwy 29. It honors all Burnet County residents who have served in any branch of the U.S. military. This picture was taken on May 12.

VFW members conducted a ceremonial flag-raising for the brand new Northwest Operations Center of the Pedernales Electric Co-operative on Hwy 281N in Marble Falls on June 12.

The renovation of the historic Badger building, on the southeast corner of the Burnet square, was already well underway by the time this photo was taken on August 17.
The Lazy Heron coffee shop, across RR 2900 from H.E.B. in Kingsland, was rapidly taking shape when this photo was taken on September 18.

This photo was taken on September 29, shortly after Central Texas Land Titles had closed its Kingsland location and sold the property. The landmark building is currently undergoing renovation, and will soon be the office of Timmons Insurance Agency.

The eagerly-awaited H.E.B. “gas station” opened in the southeast corner of the parking lot a day or two before this photo was taken on October 1.

This low spot on RR 1431 in downtown Kingsland just looked like part of the lake as the Llano River flood caused an approximately 20-foot rise on Lake LBJ all around the town.

The floodwaters had subsided by the morning of October 17, but a huge amount of damage had been done, most notably the destruction of the RR 2900 bridge.

State and local leaders, including Senator Ted Cruz, gathered on RR 2900 on October 17 to promise quick action on a replacement bridge.
