Customers mingled with members of the Lakes Area Rods & Classics car club during the Grand Opening of "The Old Drive-In" in Buchanan Dam last Friday. The long-empty restaurant, known far and wide as the Snack Shack a few decades ago, has been beautifully restored by new owners Roger and Connie Baumgart, and is open for business from 7 to 7 every day except Wednesday. The restaurant is located just off Hwy 29 on RR 261 (the road to Bluffton). It offers a varied menu, including seafood, burgers, BBQ and breakfast tacos. You can see more photos from The Old Drive-In on the "Highland Lakes Weekly" Facebook page.

I had a great experience last Friday when I was invited to be a "guest reader" for a 1st-grade class at Pecksaddie Elementary for a Dr. Seuss event, even though I had to wear a silly-looking hat! I think the kids enjoyed it almost as much as I did, although some of them had obviously heard the story of the "Cat in the Hat" more recently than I had!

The Kingsland Library hosts a knitting & crochet club called Tangled Yarns (open to the public) from 1 to 2:30 p.m. each Wednesday.

Dr. Robert Linder will be giving a demonstration on Turkey Calling at Rods, Barrels & Strings (Hwy 281N in Marble Falls) from 4 to 6 p.m. next Wednesday (March 13).

The Burnet County Office of Emergency Management is taking applications for its next CERT class (Community Emergency Response Team). The training program will prepare you to help yourself, your family and your neighbors in the event of a disaster when emergency personnel may not be able to reach everyone right away. It is free of charge, and will be held from 7-10 p.m. on Thursdays, the location to be determined. There are 7 weeks of training, plus a live simulation and graduation.

Your only commitment is approximate- ly 26 hours of your time.

To get more information and the training schedule, visit burnet-countycert.org or contact Burnet County Emergency Management Coordinator Jim Barths at jimbarths@gmail.com (or CERT Training Officer Jim Gallagher at jdgallagher54@yahoo.com).

The Highland Lakes Master Gardeners Association quilt committee has made a beautiful quilt ("Sprinkled with Love") to be raffled off at the 21st Annual Hill Country Lawn and Garden Show, scheduled for 9-3 on Saturday, March 30, at the Burnet Community Center (401 E. Jackson St.). This is free family show with a children's booth, a silent auction, garden supplies, equipment, succulents, Native Plants, vegetable plants and much more. Food will be available for purchase. There will also be three free programs: Tomatoes 101 (by Ricky Lane) at 9:30 a.m., Hill Country Wildflowers and More (by Sheryl Yantis) at 11 a.m., and (Continued on page 21).
Community leaders, including several school board members, served as “guest readers” during a Dr. Seuss celebration at Packsaddle Elementary School in Kingsland last Friday.

The Austin “magician” stage-named “Vegas” enlisted the help of children from the audience for one of his tricks at The Place Downtown in Kingsland last Friday evening. Vegas and “Ritchy Flo” performed in four shows there last weekend.

Girl Scouts from around the Highland Lakes area held a carnival-style “rally” at the Kingsland Community Center on Tuesday evening, hoping to attract more local girls to the nationally-known organization for school-age girls. If you are interested in joining or leading a new troop, please email emilyfonbuesna@gmail.com, or visit www.gsatx.org.

New beams installed last Thursday on the 2900 bridge nearly doubled the length of the visible structure, extending the frame of the new bridge to approximately halfway across the lake.

This view shows the bridge from the east side on a sunny Tuesday morning.

This photo, taken on Sunday afternoon from the north end of the bridge, shows concrete poured on a 350-section of the rapidly growing bridge.
Kingsland in the Fall of 1972

By JOHN HALLOWELL

Real estate developers offered some amazing-sounding deals around Lake LBJ in September of 1972. Carson Real Estate advertised a new 2-bedroom brick house with central heat and air conditioning for $16,500, an air-conditioned 2-bedroom brick "doll house" on the water, with a "bath and a half," for $27,500, and a 3-bedroom, two bath waterfront home in Kingsland Estates with a two-story boathouse for $37,500. A listing titled "unusual opportunity" offered a 22-unit motel on the lake for $150,000.

Thelma Miller Real Estate featured a waterfront house on a lot with an enclosed boathouse for $11,500 "with terms," or a waterfront home for $28,000 in a "very nice subdivision" for $25,000, and a furnished waterfront home with a separate BR/guest house, two wells, a boathouse (with "electric lift and beautiful boat" included) and a fishing pier on the main lake for $32,000. A 30-foot waterfront lot with a 10 x 20 boat slip was only $6,500.

Of course, food prices were much lower in 1972 as well. Vassar's Food Market advertised bacon for 85 cents a pound, chuck roasts for 69 cents, five 6-oz. cans of frozen orange juice concentrate for $1.25, peas for 12 cents a pound and a 24-oz. can of Dinty Moore beef stew cost 69 cents. Betty Cottrell cake mixes were 29 cents each.

The Texas Water Quality Board issued a paper answering several frequently-asked questions about posted septic tank regulations, but noted that Kingsland and Sherwood Shores residents had not shown sufficient interest in building an area-wide sewer system to make that a feasible option.

In the meantime, the Texas Highway Department approved $250,000 for improvements to RM 2147 from Wirtz Dam to Hwy 281, then east from Hwy 281 along the former Double Horn Road. The project was expected to take about two years.

The first executive board and general meeting of the Kingsland Garden Club was held at "the Highland Lakes Recreation Clubhouse" on September 1. Thirty-two members were present for a program by Carroll Abbott of Kerrville on "How To Trap and Tame Wild Flowers." The club planned a "cleaning up" for the last Saturday of each month, and a Flower Show Workshop at Barrow Hall on September 15.

The Kingsland American Legion and Auxiliary planned several activities for that fall, including a "family night" on September 20, a dance with music by the Carrow Brothers band from Sherwood Shores, on September 23, and the 21st District convention at the Kingsland hall on October 28 & 29. Several members received special awards, and two new members were added to the Legion at a regular meeting in September.

Kingsland native Jo Dean, who had been painting since 1940, was introduced as a new exhibitor at the Kingsland Arts and Crafts Fall Show.

The Lake Buchanan Chamber of Commerce met with representatives from Llano County and the Soil and Water Conservation Service to discuss action on improving parks on Lake Buchanan, after 900 residents had signed a petition asking Texas Parks & Wildlife to take over "improvements and maintenance" at LCRA parks around the lake.

Residents of Lone Grove united to prevent construction of a "large hog feed lot in their community." Civilian Board of Review meetings were held in the lakes area, chaired by Allan Hancock, to discuss the formation of a separate weather and fire alert system.

The Highland Lakes Water Quality Board described the participation rate of residents in 34 subdivisions in Kingsland and Sherwood Shores as "disappointing" as proponents of a new utility district managed to sign up only 40 percent of those who would be affected.

In the meantime, the LCRA estimated that there were 10,000 septic tanks around the Highland Lakes, and that more than 6,800 of them had filed applications for inspections mandated by the previous year's regulations.

Two days of Hobie Cat Sailboat Races were scheduled for September 30 and October 7 on Lake Buchanan near Buchanan Dam.

The Kingsland Garden Club provided decorative litter barrels and urged everyone to "pitch in." A clean-up day was set for the second Sunday of each month as part of the "Johnny Horzkon Country Side Cleanup Campaign.

A large ad at the end of September proclaimed the Central Texas Apple Parades and Lumbres, located at the entrance to Sunrise Beach, as "Your Home Building Specialist for the Highland Lakes.

An article on October 5, 1972, announced that bank deposits in the Highland Lakes area (including Llano and Lampasas Counties) had topped $100 million in the third quarter of the year. The Llano State Bank was Number One of the ten banks in the four-county area, with $19.1 million, while the Texas State Bank in Marble Falls had $17.5 million and First National Bank in Lampasas had $14.5 million.

The Alpha Epsilon Alpha sorority planned its annual Turkey Raffle to benefit needy families in the Kingsland and Marble Falls areas. Beta Sigma Phi planned a Halloween Carnival at the Boy Scout Trails, with Ewars and other games, plus a speck house, games and refreshments.

They also voted to sponsor a boy at Buckner Boys Ranch and to staff the registration desk at the Kingsland Arts & Crafts Show on November 4.

The German-American Restaurant in Buchanan Dam celebrated its 14th anniversary with a Bavarian Feast, and "several thousand visitors" attended (from all over Central Texas). The October 12 issue of the High- lander featured excerpts of an optimist's speech by President Lyndon B. Johnson in Temple.

A front-page article on October 19 told how the formerly-criticized community telephone service was "enlarged and upgrading consumer services" in the Highland Lakes area.

Ben Campbell, a 1942 graduate of Llano High School, announced that he would open a "new branch of Mustang Mobile Homes" across from Fred-Lex Marine on Hwy 1431 in Kingsland, and the Soil and Water Conservation Service was hearing action on improving parks on Lake Buchanan, after 900 residents had signed a petition asking Texas Parks & Wildlife to take over "improvements and maintenance" at LCRA parks around the lake.

Thank you for reading the Highland Lakes Weekly!
Rear Admiral Albert Kelln (retired) posed recently for this picture with his wife (and editor), Cecily, at the Llano Library. He has recently published a book about his life and the many fascinating experiences he had as a submarine commander in the U.S. Navy. The book is titled “Living the Miracles: A Sailor’s Life in the Nuclear Power Age.” You can get a copy by sending $23 to Kelln Press at P.O. Box 424 in Llano (78643) or by contacting the author at kelln@att.net to pick up your copy for just $18.

Let’s Talk Butterflies (also by Sheryl Yantis) at 12:30 p.m.

That weekend and the first weekend of April, the Llano Community Theatre group will present five shows of the comedic murder mystery, “As Long As We both Shall Live,” at the LJSF Community Room.

CX2 Construction will sponsor the Burnet County Great Strides Walk to help fight cystic fibrosis at 10 a.m. (registration starts at 9) on Saturday, April 6, at Haley Nelson Park. For more details, or to register a team, see www.cxf.org/greatstrides.

I attended the Girl Scout rally on Tuesday evening at the Kingsland Community Center, and didn’t have room under the picture (on page 4) to list the sponsors. They were: Highland Safety Center, Kingsland Community Center, ACE Hardware, Kingsland H.E.B., Kingsland Health Mart, Kingsland Sonic, Sarah’s Cookie Jar, Lazy Heaven Coffee House, Burnet Knights of Columbus, The Place Downtown, Alfredo’s, Kingsland 7-11, Buddies, Triple C Beverage Barn, Sure Cuts, Lollipops the Clown, and El Braero. Thanks to all those good citizens; the event seemed to be a big success!

Daniel Adams and Maria Ripperda, whose art is featured in a new gallery at 908 Second Street in Marble Falls, posed for this picture during an Open House last Saturday. Alex and Ginevile Harvey provided live music at the event, which was held in conjunction with Market Day on Main.

The Falls on the Colorado Museum, on Broadway in Marble Falls, hosted two events last Saturday. The Highland Lakes SPCA held a Doggie Adoption event and beekeeper Rebecca Nunnally gave a presentation on bees.

Ray Buchanan supervised an Upper Highland Lakes Nature Center program on Native American Gardens at Numinosus Coffee Roasters in Marble Falls last Saturday morning.

Master Gardener and radio host Wade Hildeb gave a program on “Veggie Gardening in Central Texas” at Backbone Valley Nursery last Saturday.

The singers of the popular Bluebonnet Chorale have a busy spring schedule, with eleven concerts planned for venues around the Highland Lakes. They will be back at the Kingsland Community Church, where this photo was taken, at 10 a.m. on Tuesday, April 2.

This group of Master Naturalists assembled for a cleanup of flood debris at the Nature Preserve in Cottonwood Shores last week.
