Corden’s Cause!

The Burnet community, led by the local fire department, rallied around Corden Fidler (whose father is a highly-regarded Burnet firefighter) in a huge BBQ fundraiser at the community center last Saturday. The 4-year-old was the lone survivor of a horrific shooting by his estranged step-father that killed his mother and grandmother at their home in Temple on December 20. Event organizers said Corden has made amazing progress during his weeks in the hospital, but he will still have surgeries and physical therapy going forward. You can see more photos from Corden’s Cause on page 14; also many more on the “Highland Lakes Weekly” Facebook page.

Wanda and Roland Lang came from Lampasas to Kingsland on an important mission this past Monday: they are hoping to get in touch with someone who attended Kingsland School 75 years ago! Roland's parents lived in Kingsland when he was born, and he started school here in 1944; the family moved to Lampasas in 1945.

Scatterthought

An unfortunate mixup kept me from advertising the Highland Lakes Baptist Church's 30th Anniversary Celebration last week; it's going to be this Sunday, so I want to lead off with that particular item (see ad on page 2).

Other than that, it has been a great week (well, there were a FEW hiccups, but it was MOSTLY great)! Among the highlights of my week was the amazing "Cordon's Cause" fundraiser in Burnet (see pages 1 and 14). I am told that it was the brainchild of firefighter Alicea Traeger, but the rest of the fire department (and the whole community) joined in, and it was a huge and very heartwarming success.

Two other highlights were a telephone call and a letter. Roland Lang (see photo above) called and said he would like to visit with me; he and his wife came to Kingsland on Tuesday for lunch at Gatti's and, well, I hope they enjoyed the visit as much as I did.

The letter came from Corey Whish of Kingsland. He complimented my "free garage sale," but included payment for the garage sale he was placing; he also sent me a unique little (tiny) GTF telephone book for "Kingsland and Sunrise Beach Village" which seemed at first glance to be possibly from the 80s. I believe that I will someday figure out from the business listings exactly what year it was printed; I believe that it will be a valuable aid as I write my next book.

The Marble Falls Senior Center has a couple of programs scheduled: "Money Smart for Older Adults" this Friday at 12:30, and "Diabetes Awareness" at the same time NEXT Friday (March 22).

In the meantime, Commissioner Mike Sandoval will be hosting a Town Hall meeting on "Ten Early Signs and Symptoms of Alzheimer's" with the Alzheimer's Association of Austin at 5:30 p.m. on Tuesday, March 19, and the Kingsland Chamber will be hosting its Breakfast Club next Wednesday (March 20) at 7:45 a.m. at the new Lazy Heron Coffee House (across from H.E.B.).

The American Red Cross will be conducting Shelter Fundamentals training from 8 to noon on Saturday, March 23, at the Agri-Life Building in Burnet (607 N Vandeventer). This training will introduce guidelines and procedures for setting up, running and closing a shelter during a disaster. This training is free and open to anyone who would like to attend. For more details, call Jim Barbo at (512) 750-0507 or email jimbarbo@gmail.com

Starting next Tuesday (March 19), Llano Library is continuing its PAULS (Play And Learn Series) Family Place initiative. This program will run from 10 to 11:30 a.m. every Tuesday through April 9. Children 4 years old and younger (and their caregivers) are invited to enjoy toys and materials which promote early learning and increase social and verbal interaction. Each week offers something new; pre-registration is required; please call 325-247-5248 or stop by the library to sign up.

Burnet's huge Bluebonnet Festival is less than a month away! Activities begin with the Wrist Band/Family Night at the carnival on Thursday, April 11. The Kiwanis pancake breakfast is on Friday the 12th, followed by a myriad of activities beginning at 2 p.m. Saturday and Sunday continue the activities with everything from a Fun Run, Kid K, 5k and 10k runs to continuous entertainment, to a car show on the banks of Hamilton Creek, to shoot-outs by the Burnet Gun Fighters and of course the rubber ducky race, wiener dog races, and the fabulous

The Beachers, Sunrise Beach’s well-known “lawn chair drill team” entertained students at Packsaddle Elementary School last Friday at a Texas Independence Day assembly.

Donna Ingham, the well-known storyteller and author from Spicewood, gave the Highland Lakes Genealogy Society some pointers on preserving and passing along family stories during their meeting at the Kingsland Library on Tuesday.

Sponsor Mike Cummins, of “55 and Finer” in Kingsland, told the crowd at Tuesday night’s Winter Texan Dinner about his pleasant mobile home communities and rental properties; at right, Aqua Boom queens Jordyn Young and Kailie Hair greeted guests at the event in the Kingsland Community Center.
Rapid progress continues on the new RR 2900 bridge in Kingsland. This view is from the southwest, showing the bridge stretching halfway across the lake and a bee line of activity all the way across.

Kingsland Chamber members joined employees of La Tequila Jalisco restaurant at a ribbon-cutting to welcome the relatively new Kingsland business (open just over a year) as a new member.

Robin Tippens cut the ceremonial ribbon for the new Potato Shack at the Hill Country Shops complex, on RR 1431 east of Kingsland, during the monthly Market Days event there last Saturday.

Thirteen-year-old marksman Carson Moore (second from left) posed with family members during a BBQ fundraiser last Sunday at Oma’s Attic in Kingsland to help send him to the Junior Olympics. Carson has excelled in regional competitions, and qualified in January for the Junior Olympics next month in Colorado Springs. His younger sister, Abby, is also an accomplished shooter; their coach, Guy Taylor, is looking over Carson’s shoulder in this picture.

Wayne’s Air moved into its impressive new offices last week; the company is now located at 3007 RR 1431, in the totally-renovated building which most recently housed Deb’s Doggie Bath House.

The local Lambda Nu sorority held a well-attended “Tea on a Waltz Across Texas” at Highland Lakes United Methodist Church in Buchanan Dam last Thursday afternoon. The event supported local charities and scholarship funds.

A hat contest is one of the highlights of the annual Lambda Nu tea party; several of the contestants posed for a picture with the cutout of John Wayne during last Thursday’s event.

One of the beneficiaries of this year’s tea party was Operation Exfil. In the photo above, Lambda Nu representatives Mary Ann Hefner and Jessamyn Putnam present a check to Sandra Galyon, founder of the Operation Exfil organization (“Helping our Heroes Find Solace”)

The Hill Country Fellowship church in Burnet hosted this year’s wonderful “Night to Remember” special-needs prom last Friday evening. The event featured limousine rides, red carpets with cheering reception lines and a special “buddy” who accompanied each guest to make sure that everyone had a great time. Guests wore crowns and posed for photos before heading to the gym for dining and dancing.
In the gym, another photo booth greeted guests at Hill Country Fellowship’s “A Night to Remember.” This time, props were available to provide a comical look. Music, dancing, a delicious dinner and other activities made sure the event lived up to its name.

The Llano Youth Soccer organization hosted two performances of the King Cole Circus, which put on an excellent show in the rodeo arena at Llano's JFK Event Center on Monday.

This unicycle rider shows off his skills by jumping rope while riding! The performers were both skillful and personable, and the show involved considerable interaction with the appreciative audience.

During the intermission, members of the audience were invited to pose for pictures with some of the remarkably well-trained canine performers (who also seemed to genuinely enjoy their jobs!).

Kingsland’s fabulous new Wakepoint complex opened late last summer, but had to postpone its planned Grand Opening because of the October flood. Now Wakepoint is planning big events for the next two weekends: a benefit concert this Saturday (see ad on page 11) to help Kingsland re-build, and a Grand Opening (finally!) next Saturday (March 23). We’ll hope to see you there!

Above: When Lake LBJ was lowered by four feet in January, the huge new sand bar (deposited by the October 16 flood where the Llano and Colorado Rivers meet) was exposed for all to see. Below: The sand bar is still there (although citizen volunteers did clean up dangerous debris left there by the flood), but most of it is lurking just below the surface of the water.

The BBQ sold out early.

Bounce houses and live music added a festive atmosphere to the “Corden’s Cause” benefit last Saturday. Above, popular area musicians Sam Williams, Matthew Butter and Eric Schuessler took their turns on stage.

While Texas weather is wildly unpredictable (especially in March), there are definite signs that Spring has arrived in the Highland Lakes area. One sign is the profusion of wildflowers, which becomes more evident daily; another is the opening of Dan and Gretchen Copeland’s Sweet Berry Farm, on RR 1960 in Marble Falls. The photo at left was taken by Sheryl Yantis, who will be giving a presentation on “Hill Country Wildflowers and More” at the Hill Country Lawn and Garden Show in Burnet, at 11 a.m. on Saturday, March 30.
