See more “carnival” photos on page 11 and some “Battle of the Bands” photos on page 12. Scatterthought

I think I did too much reminiscing last week ("celebrating" the Highland Lakes Weekly's 8th anniversary) and not enough planning and forethought for last week's paper. It ended up being a hastily put-together paper with quite a few mistakes and omissions (even more than normal, I'm afraid). Most of the mistakes don't deserve mention, but the left-over "Young Eagles" headline on page 23 may have puzzled some readers. I was supposed to change that to say "Style in Action," but in my haste I totally forgot.

Unfortunately, I forgot less obvious things every week. One that I really felt bad about was the Highland Lakes Writers Club's "Open Mic" night at Numerous Coffee Roasters last month. I truly intended to announce it (especially since they had been so kind as to invite me to speak at their regular meeting a couple of weeks earlier), but I forgot. Then, because it wasn't in my paper, I didn't think to go and take pictures. This month I want to do better, so I'll mention right now that the next Open Mic Night (5 p.m. on Monday, May 27, at Numerous) will feature the young poets of Colt Elementary School; the Colt Harleets (4th-graders) and the Mini-Hams (1st-graders). I do hope to get there and take pictures this time around.

I want to give a shout-out to the new Wakenpoint organization in Kingsland; not only have they hosted a couple of great concerts there recently (and are planning a Memorial Day Bash on the 27th), but they were a major sponsor of the May fest "Battle of the Bands" in Marble Falls (won by the local group, Southern Underground) last weekend (see page 12).

Commissioner Mike Sandoval (Llano County, Precinct 3) has announced plans for his next Town Hall meeting, to be held at the Kingsland Library from 6 to 7 p.m. (doors open at 5:30) on Tuesday, May 21. He'll give an update on the bridge opening (scheduled for May 24), and discuss "many other things of importance."

Speaking of the bridge opening, there will be quite a few 4th-graders there from Packardville Elementary. They have received a special invitation because (under the supervision of English teacher Tammy Barrack) they have published a book about the flood of last October 16! You can learn more about that on pages 22 and 23 in this week's paper.

While the new bridge is nearly finished, and much of the flood damage has been repaired, there is still a lot of work to be done (and there are still people who need our help re-building their lives). The Highland Lakes Crisis Network (HLCN), a non-profit organization with the mission of helping area residents impacted by natural disasters, is still needing donations and volunteers. If you can help, please look up www.highlandlakescrisis network.com for details and instructions.

They are able to pass criminal, motor vehicle and CPS history background checks; they will also be required to successfully complete 30 hours of classroom training and a minimum of 3 hours court observation. The Marble Falls Chamber of Commerce will host a "Family-Friendly Slip-and-Slide Water Party" in conjunction with Market Day, with a 3-lane, 850-foot water slide from the Urban Slide company, on the 3rd Street hill (see photo at right).

Jump into summer on the Urban Slide, a 3-lane, 850-foot water slide on Third Street in Marble Falls (the traditional Soapbox Classic venue) on Saturday, June 15 (in conjunction with Market Day on Main). The one-day water party starts at 10 a.m. and runs until dark, ending in a laser light show. Sliders can register for two-hour "waves," an all-day pass or cut in line with a Slide Fast pass. Participants must be at least 5 years old and over 46 inches tall to ride. Tickets are on sale online now at marblefalls.org/slide.
Intermittent rain last Saturday morning discouraged some classic car owners from attending the “Rumble by the River,” an annual fundraiser for the Cottonwood Shores VFD, but there were enough entries there to delight car buffs in attendance, and firefighters served hot dogs and cold drinks to visitors at the event.

The photos above and at left, taken on the RM 2900 bridge last Sunday afternoon, are already out-of-date; hundreds of yards of concrete were poured on Tuesday and Wednesday (see photo below). All indications are that the bridge will be ready for traffic by May 24 (when the official ribbon-cutting is to be held), though some finishing touches will still be needed.

This photo shows progress on the six-foot-wide sidewalk, to be protected from traffic by a concrete barrier, which runs along the east side of the new RM 2900 bridge. The new bridge will be higher, wider and stronger than the original 1968 bridge.

You are Invited!
From 2 to 4 p.m. on Tuesday, May 14, at the Kingsland Library.

Are you seeking updated information on resources for your family ancestry? Please join us for a presentation by Kris Richins of the Buchanan LDS Family Research Center (following our short meeting) from 2-4 p.m. on Tuesday, June 11. Kris will offer answers to these questions: Where can I research family history online? What are the costs? Why should I use that site? What does FamilySearch.org have to offer besides an online family tree?

The new bridge should look this way all across the lake by the time this paper is printed. This photo shows the nearly-finished north side of the bridge last Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Tammy Barrack posed for this picture on Tuesday with one of her 4th-grade English Language Arts/Reading classes at Packsaddle Elementary School in Kingsland. This class and another shared their memories of last October’s flood for a scrap-book project which has now turned into a charming professionally-published book (and has earned them an invitation to the May 24 ribbon-cutting ceremony at the replacement RM 2900 bridge) The book, which was written and illustrated by the students under Mrs. Barrack’s direction, is available online at studenttreasures.com (click on the “Parents” tab and enter PIN 7309464 or 7309463).
