Bluebonnet Festival this weekend!

One of the many highlights in Burnet's wonderful Bluebonnet Festival will be the Mounted 1st Cavalry Demonstration. The 1st Cav will ride in the Grand Parade at 11 a.m. on Saturday, then move to Wallace Riddell Park, where they will display their horsemanship and weapons skills in a 30-minute demonstration (the public is eagerly invited to attend, and there is no charge). The huge festival begins at 5 p.m. on Thursday with the opening of the Mighty Thomas carnival, and the excitement builds through the day on Friday, with a Pancake Breakfast, vendors, etc. Opening Ceremonies are at 5:30 p.m., followed by the Pet Parade, Scholarship Pageant and a Street Dance with Josh Ward. Saturday is the big day, capped off by a Street Dance with Sam Riggs. Then the festival winds down with the Wiener Dog Races on Sunday afternoon.

John Hallowell

We are definitely in the "busy season" here in the Highland Lakes area, and I wasn’t able to cover anything the way I would have liked to last week. On the other hand, I would have needed at least 32 pages to fit everything into the paper, and that is more than I can handle. So I hope you’ll enjoy what I have in this week’s paper and forgive me for what I don’t have.

This weekend will be dominated by Burnet’s wonderful Bluebonnet Festival. Even without the Air Show (which will be in September again this year), this festival is probably the best community festival in the Texas Hill Country. I’m hoping to give it quite a bit of space in next week’s paper, but you really need to experience it for yourself. I hope you are there!

Among the many activities, there are a few that seem to go mostly unnoticed. One is the wildflower display in the back room of the library (you go in the Main Street side door) on Friday afternoon and during the day on Saturday. You can learn a lot about the flowers that bring the Hill Country to life each spring — it’s well worth a trip.

Another is the Rubber Ducky Race, over on Hamilton Creek. It’s a fun event, and you can win some great prizes; but more importantly, it raises money for Highland Lakes Literacy. It happens shortly after the Grand Parade, just about two blocks west of the square; you can buy tickets there between 10 and noon on Saturday, or get them ahead of time from any HLL member.

Unfortunately, it’s hard to get to both the Rubber Ducky Race and the First Cavalry Demonstration at Wallace Riddell Park (a few blocks in the opposite direction), and I also want to recommend that great event to festival-goers. Burnet is honored to have that excellent group from Fort Hood, and the skills they demonstrate are very impressive. The demonstration is scheduled for 12 noon, and the Ducky Race for about 12:30. You might be able to make it to both.

I spend so much of my time trying to be two places at once that I often forget things that aren’t so “time-sensitive.” One of the things I meant to do this past week was to talk to Swanna Lothman about a collection for churches in Romania, where she and her husband, Dennis, have spent quite a bit of time these last few years. Apparently there is a room at the First Baptist Church in Burnet that is already more than half full of books, shoes, jackets, coats and other items to take over there. If you’d like to help fill that room, your donations would be much appreciated!

The Windwood Tenants Association (Kingsland) will be holding its annual Yard Sale/Bake Sale fundraiser from 9 to 4 on Friday and Saturday, April 21 & 22. They have a host of interesting items, even golf bags with clubs! I also want to mention the Highland Lakes Community Theatre’s summer youth program. It doesn’t until June 12 (afternoon through June 23), but HCCT is already taking applications. Everyone who is accepted will get a part in a production of the musical, “Disney’s Alice in Wonderland Jr.” Students will still learn the fundamentals of acting, but this year, they will be doing that while rehearsing and presenting a full musical.

Those who follow the Highland Lakes Weekly on Facebook probably already know, but I want to tell you anyway: I am finally allowed to let you in on a secret that I’ve had to keep for almost a year. Last June, Adam Woolley invited me to his Star Hill Ranch (near Bee Cave), where I spent about an hour marvelling (and taking pictures) on the set of the TV series “The Son,” starring Pierce Brosnan. The last few weeks, I have been seeing commercials for it, and it will begin airing at 8 p.m. this Saturday evening. Of course, I’ll have to wait for it to come out on video; I’ll be at Bluebonnet Festival. Hope to see you there; have a great week!

He plays for the team sponsored by Arbor’s Tree Service. The catcher in the photo is Cole Bandelmaln, of the King’s Concrete team. The umpire is Jimbo McKnight.

Friends, family, and Chamber members gathered to help welcome Monica Proctor’s Wildflower Fitness and Health business, located between Sonic and “Tan That!” on Hwy 1431, as a new member of the Kingsland Chamber with a ribbon-cutting last Thursday. Wildflower offers core conditioning, strength training and gentle yoga, all customized to your exact needs. Call 817-522-8823 for more details.

A good crowd attended the Grand Opening of the new Club Car Bar (in an addition to the Grand Central Cafe), highlighted by a ribbon-cutting with the Kingsland Chamber, pictured above. Owners Sandy and Brad Jones cut the ribbon; musicians Jeff Haese, Bob Caraway, The River Rat Revue and the Dubious Brothers took turns providing live entertainment.

Claudia and Elisabeth Wolfe were two of the participants in the Kingsland Library’s “Christmas in April” April Fool’s joke last Saturday. Not a joke in the Library Amnesty this month; anyone who brings a late book into any Llano County library (in person) during the month of April will have all their fines waived.

Llano's Fiddle Fest Weekend

The Air Fiddle Contest's best-dressed celebrity, Robin Chiesa-Baros, (she even had a fiddle-shaped hat!) brought a bodyguard (Sheri Zoch) to her performance at the Badu House stage last Friday night. As usual, there were a good number of talented and charming competitors at the light-hearted event that kicks off Llano's big Fiddle Fest Weekend.

Judges Darrell Staedtler, Dana Wright and Charley Jordan III had a tough job at Friday's Air Fiddle Contest.

Four groups were selected as Air Fiddle Finalists, and the top prize went to dancers Felicia Patterson, Lilly Cooper and Gillian Fletcher, from the Wildflower Dance and Yoga Studio.

Wayne Hawley, of Burnet, was one of the excellent contestants in the “Legends” division (65+). Top honors in the Legends division went to Jesse Mears.

The “Open” division (for all ages) was the main event. First Prize in that category went to Bubba Hopkins.

Saturday evening’s highlight was a concert with noted fiddler (and singer) Elana James. She was accompanied by Whit Smith and Jake Erwin, co-founders with her of the critically-acCLAIMED “Hot Club of Cowtown.”

The Fiddle Fest Weekend was a big success!

Pet of the Week

Skylor wants to meet you at the Hill Country Humane Society. She is a 5 year-old Staffordshire Terrier/Boxer mix who weighs about 55 pounds. Skylor is a staff favorite. She has been with us for a while and is really getting tired of the shelter life. It’s time for her to have her very own family. She is super sweet and playful, and she loves to give hugs and kisses. You can adopt Skylor for only $125, and she will be your new best friend forever. If you would like more information on Skylor or any of our other wonderful animals looking for their very own homes, contact HCCHS at 512-793-5463 or visit our website at www.hillcountryhumaneorganization.org. The shelter is open Thursday through Monday, 11 to 4.
