Enloe’s Outlaws make a Comeback!

BLAST FROM THE PAST: It’s been 28 years since the famous Enloe’s Outlaws (the world-class ski team coached by Kingsland heroes David and Pat Enloe) entertained Aqua Boom crowds in Kingsland on July 4th, but these former “Outlaws” have not forgotten how to ski! Kingsland old-timers were delighted last week to see them practicing the famous five-flag formation on Lake LBJ. They will present an old-time ski show at the new “Enloe Memorial Bridge” at 6:30 p.m. on Thursday, July 4. See more practice pictures on pages 17-19 (and many more on our Facebook page); the entire Aqua Boom schedule is on page 23.
The Miss Aqua Boom Scholarship Pageant will be held this Saturday, June 29, at the Kingsland Community Center. The event will begin with a Baby Bash at 10 a.m. and continue with a variety of age group activities through the afternoon and evening (see complete schedule on page 23).

Scatterthought

I had a couple of real adventures this week, and (as usual) you’ll see pictures elsewhere in this paper. The first was to tag along with former members of the legendary “Enloe’s Outlaws” as they practiced for what will be a memorable ski show at the new Enloe Memorial Bridge in Kingsland on the Fourth of July.

The second was kind of bittersweet, as I toured the former home of my friends Billy Joe and LaVerna “Vonnie” Fox in Burnet. It was an adventure because it brought back so many good memories, and because so much of their active imaginations is on display. Of course, most of you will already know that Mr. Fox passed away last year, and some might already know that Mrs. Fox now resides at Country Oaks Assisted Living. The house on Hwy 281 is no longer their “home,” but the “estate sale” scheduled for this weekend (see page 11) is in some ways “the end of an era” in Burnet.

I met Mr. Fox about 25 years ago, when I was still living in Goldenwaite. I started working for Schwan’s, selling frozen food from the depot in Lampasas. The Burnet area made up most of my route, and one of the stops was at Fox Real Estate, then on Hwy 281. It was a very friendly place (although I didn’t sell much there!), and seemed almost to be a hangout for Mr. Fox and his friends, instead of a normal place of business. I had no idea at first of the influence he was having on Burnet’s growth and development, but he and his wife had recently donated land to the city for the Delaware Springs Golf Course, and they were in the process of developing the Delaware Springs and Oak Ridge subdivisions nearby.

As I became better acquainted with them, I began to hear stories (from them and others) about their many accomplishments: Billy Joe’s service in the Merchant Marine, his baseball career and the trucking company he founded; the building of Thunderbird Lodge, and his work as a parts manager and road builder in the beginnings of Granite Shores. Vonnie, of course, was the daughter of the famous sheriff, Wallace Riddell. They had been classmates at Burnet High School, where she was a cheerleader and the 1944 “Football Queen,” but they didn’t get married until nearly 15 years after they graduated.

Which brings me to another event that I wanted to mention. The Burnet County Historical Commission will be holding a reception in honor of its 2019 Citizens of Note at 11 a.m. on Tuesday, July 2, at the Agri-Life Building in Burnet (607 North Vandeventer). One of the seven individuals to be honored for their life accomplishments is none other than Vonnie Fox! The others are: Virgil Lewis, Eva Duval Cook Duncan, Jamie Duncan Hunted, Mary Ligon Hampton, Jim Luther, Sr., and Ina Cooper. The public is invited to attend the reception; the honorees’ biographies are posted on the BCHC website.

Eric Britttingham, of Wildlife on the Move, delighted the children in the Kingsland Library’s Summer Reading Program with a hands-on nature presentation last Friday.

Some “Friends of the Kingsland Library” gathered for a group photo during an Open House on Tuesday. The event was held to celebrate the new RM 2900 bridge, and to welcome back friends from the other side of the lake.

Nell and Chuck Forman, of Valley Spring, came to the Lazy Heron Coffee House in Kingsland on Tuesday morning to promote Nell’s book, “Soar As An Eagle With God’s Help.” The book describes Mrs. Forman’s adventures growing up in rural Texas during the Depression and World War II, then follows her life through the decades since, with a special focus on God’s loving care. Mr. Forman helped edit the book and added an original poem to summarize each chapter. The book is available for sale on Amazon.

A good crowd (including many descendants) gathered last Saturday for Texas Ranger Memorial Cross Dedication at the graves of Hugh and Archibald McCoy at Bethel Cemetery in northeastern Burnet County. A medallion from the Sons of the Republic of Texas was also unveiled, at the grave of Erwin “Jiggs” Kleen.

Flags and wreaths were placed at the grave of Hugh McCoy (1831-1917).

Great-grandchildren of Hugh McCoy gathered to unveil the Texas Ranger Memorial Cross by his grave.

Members of the Sons of the Republic of Texas contributed a black powder rifle salute and fired two cannons after the unveiling.
Former Texas Ranger Ray Martinez (at center, in blue shirt) was the keynote speaker at the Memorial Cross Dedication, which was organized by the Burnet County Historical Commission and the Former Texas Ranger Association. "Ranger Ray" also led the crowd in the "Ranger Prayer." Other speakers were Joann Myers and Tommie Dorbandt Potts, of the BCHC, and McCoy descendants Carolyn McCoy Liles, Frank Creasey Jr. and Dot Creasey.

events will be held in Llano, Marble Falls, Horseshoe Bay and other communities. As is my custom, I will be focusing mostly on Kingsland's Aqua Boom and hoping that it will serve as a good representation of the patriotic enthusiasm that is on display all around the lakes (I'm including a complete Aqua Boom schedule on page 23 this week). Llano's big Rock 'n Riverfest will be held on Saturday, July 6 (Llano will have TWO fireworks shows!), so I hope to get a few pictures there as well. I'm including a complete Aqua Boom schedule on page 23 this week.

In case you were wondering, the former DAV Thrift Store building (2317 W RR 1431) in Kingsland is now Chapter Home for Disabled American Veterans and the new office for local Veteran's Service Officers. Any Veteran needing assistance filling out forms and filing for compensation will have help, available beginning in August. If any Disabled Vet just needs to talk to another Disabled Vet, please come to the Chapter Home. If no one is in, phone numbers will be posted on the bulletin board next to the front door.

This is already more than I had planned to write, so I'd better stop. Have a great week!

Clockwise from above: Volunteers presented a free art program for children 9 to 13 at the Highland Art Guild in Marble Falls. The Hilltop Flyers group sang gospel songs for residents of Gateway Villas. New storage units are now available on RR 1431 in Granite Shoals. Employees of Welch Excavation, from Tyler, posed for a picture in front of the soon-coming “Captain D’s” on Hwy 281S in Burnet. And local Ham Radio operators met for an ARRL Field Day at the VFD building in Marble Falls.
Practicing on Sunday afternoon for this year’s “Enloe’s Outlaws” ski show, scheduled for 6:30 p.m. on July 4 at the new “Enloe Memorial Bridge,” were (L-R, standing in back): Karlie Wyatt, Tonya Gutierrez Wyatt, Liam Stagg, Deidra Blount Heflin, Chris Northam, Tiffany Edwards, Mark Edwards, John White, John Heflin and Jimmy White. In front: Rhonda Burnes, Wendy Enloe Smith (daughter of David and Pat Enloe, who founded and coached the original team), and Tammy White Qualls. (*) designates former Outlaws. Others involved in this year’s show (but not pictured) are: Jackie Stagg, Chad Smith, Cindy & Darryl Miller and Robert & Janean Burton (Darryl and Robert are also former Outlaws). See more photos from Sunday’s practice session on pages 18 & 19.

The Kingsland House of Arts & Crafts (above) and Kingsland Florist (above, right) seem to have a built-in advantage for the Patriotic Decorating Contest with their year-round paint jobs, but other businesses around town are doing their part to cover Kingsland with Red, White and Blue for this year’s Aqua Boom festival. This year will mark Kingsland’s 50th Aqua Boom, and the long-lived community festival is still considered one of the best Independence Day celebrations in the Texas Hill Country.
