During the past 80 years, the Robertson family’s remarkable Camp Longhorn has become a Highland Lakes icon. Founded in 1939 by Olympic swimmer and UT swimming coach Tex Robertson, the camp has grown along with the area, and continues to provide a wonderful Highland Lakes experience to hundreds of young people each summer. The original camp (pictured above) is across Inks Lake from the State Park; a second branch (Indian Springs) was opened a few miles east in Burnet County in 1979. Scatterthought

I will be on vacation next week! That's the big news here at the world headquarters of Hallowell Publishing; there won't be an August 2 edition of the Highland Lakes Weekly. When I first decided (in 2013) that I needed (and could afford) a vacation, I chose the first week of August for three reasons. First, it was too hot! Second, Aqua Boom (and my baby season) was over, and business had hit a mid-summer lull. And third, there were five Fridays that month, so I would still have my "minimum monthly requirement" of four paydays! I have taken a week off almost every year since then, on either the "third" week of July or the first week of August. This year, it's August that has five Fridays.

Last year I finally completed my goal of driving through at least part of each of the "lower 48" states, so I'm not planning another road trip. I'm just going to fly to Washington state to visit my father (and all the other family members who live there). It might not be quite so interesting as my previous vacations, but it shouldn't be so exhausting, either (a couple of my "road trips" took me more than 4,000 miles!) I hope I'll actually feel rested and rejuvenated when I get back to work on August 5. (I know I haven't quite been keeping up with things past few weeks.)

Of course, this means that I won't be here to cover the area's "good news." As soon as I finalised my plans, I started hearing about things scheduled for that week. Probably the Kevin Fowler concert in Burnet is the biggest, but it's not the only event I'll have to miss. I hope that I'll be able to make it up to my readers by doing an extra-good job when I get back.

I won't be here for Commissioner Mike Sandoval's Town Hall meeting, either. That event is scheduled for 5:30 p.m. on Tuesday, July 30, at the Kingland Library. I should be back in plenty of time for the Llano Youth Soccer registration and evaluations, scheduled for 9 to noon on Saturday, August 10. If that's something that interests you, you can call Deana Kermer for details at 325-423-0288.

There were quite a few interesting events this past week, and some pretty big news from Kingland and Llano. The new Mr. Gatti's Pizza re-opened in its beautiful new location in front of the Kingland Community Center at 11 a.m. on Wednesday, and The Llano News reported that the Badia 1891 restaurant would re-open the same day at 4 p.m. in its beautiful OLD location.

I've been trying to find more information about the American Legion Hall in Kingland, specifically when the second half of the building was added on. And which half was it? I thought that the half further away from RR 2545 was the original, and that the back room was added on before the second half was built. I found a picture of the original building there at the Post, but I still can't say for sure which half it is (it looks like it might be the half CLOSER to RR 2545). If anyone could give some solid information, I would be grateful!

I had sort of decided that the "flooding" chapter of Kingland history was closed when the new bridge opened, but I see that there is still a lot of work going on all around the lakes. The community park is improving, but still has a way to go. There are still barge collecting underwater debris, and many homes and yards are still being put back together.

But overall, Kingland seems to be flourishing; new businesses like Boat Town, Wakepoint and The Lazy Heron have brightened the landscape and added to the community atmosphere. It's a good time to be here, and it's fun reporting all the new developments. I'll enjoy my vacation, but I'll be glad to come back to work in August. Have a great two weeks!
The first meeting of Kingsland's American Legion Post #437 was held on January 11, 1962, and Henry Hill (at right) was elected as Commander. Shirley Williams donated land for a new hall (half of the current building), which was completed in March of 1963. In the meantime, the Auxiliary was formed in August of 1962. The Post thrived for decades, but has declined for the past several years; now under the leadership of Commander Michael Wheeler and Adjutant Michael Janto, the post is hoping to grow again (see ad on page 21).

For years, the American Legion played a major role in the Kingsland community, holding events at the hall and (among many other things) sponsoring youth baseball teams. Their 1979 team is pictured above, winning 2nd Prize as a float in the Aqua Boom Parade.

Guests prepare to pick some grapes during the “Rock the Vines Harvest Festival” at Vineyard B&B (on RR 2233 near Sunrise Beach) last Saturday. The event featured grape-stomping, live “Trop Rock” music, cooking classes and lots of good food and drink.

Guest “harvesters” picked a few grapes and posed for a few pictures before the grape-stomping began. The classy Bed & Breakfast and bistro is located just off Highway 71, on the way to Sunrise Beach.

Eric Babin, of Radio Trop Rock, helped prepare for the evening’s concert. Performers included local musician George Gurganis and Trop Rock favorites James “Sunny Jim” White and Donny Brewer.

Above: The good-humored grape-stomping was one of the highlights of last Saturday’s “Rock the Vines” event at Vineyard B&B. Below: Trop Rock stars Donny Brewer and Sunny Jim shared the outdoor stage late Saturday night to delight the fans, some of whom were from the “Parrothead Club” in San Antonio. Trop Rock is a laid-back blend of several types of music, and Jimmy Buffett is considered the ultimate “Trop Rocker.”

While recent hot weather has had a definite effect on the flow of the Llano River (it dipped below 100 cubic feet per second last week -- for the first time in nearly a year), there is still a lot of cool, clear water flowing toward Lake LBJ. This photo was taken near Schneider’s Slab, a few miles west of Llano.

The new “post-flood” sandbar, just below the junction of the Llano and Colorado Rivers in Lake LBJ, has become one of Kingsland’s favorite party spots! These pictures were taken last Saturday afternoon.
Marble Falls
Open/Pro Rodeo!

Area First Responders filed into the Charley Taylor Arena to be recognized before the rodeo action began on Friday evening; some of them re-appeared later in the evening for an entertaining “steer saddling” competition. Good crowds attended on both Friday and Saturday nights. See more rodeo pictures on the next two pages, and many more on the “Highland Lakes Weekly” Facebook page.

The brightly-colored sails of sailboats from Camp Longhorn dotted Inks Lake on Tuesday afternoon. These photos were taken from a hill on Park Road 4, just across the lake from the famous summer camp.
The Austin Police Department's Youth Leadership Program finished its month-long training and mentoring course with a visit to Inks Lake State Park (archery, kayaking, water safety, ropes, communications -- and FUN).

Officer Eric Oakmon (retired), Officer Marie Bynum and Administrative Officer Susie Mathur were in charge of this excellent event for about 30 high-school-age future leaders.

A refreshing swim in Inks Lake was one of the perks for students involved in the month-long leadership training course, which involved several trips for on-location learning “Graduates” of this course will help train and mentor a larger group of middle-school students in a similar program next summer.

Llano Animal Rescue

Rosie is a sweet and smart Black Mouth Cur. She’s about 1 year old, has been spayed and is looking for her forever home. Her breed is very energetic and can be used for hunting & ranching. She needs lots of space to run and play and burn off energy. She has been fostered by a couple of volunteers, and we know that she gets along well with other dogs, children, and even cats! She is crate and house trained, and she is also a real love bug who loves to snuggle. If you’d like to meet Rosie, please contact Llano Animal Rescue at 325-247-4963. You can also like us on Facebook and then send us a message. Or go to llanoanimalrescue.com and send us an email.
