Expert instructors from AquaFly, in Austin, put on a spectacular demonstration of the FlyDive X-Board at Wakepoint LBJ in Kingsland last Saturday. The X-Board, reportedly “the easiest water jetboard to fly,” is powered by a jet ski connected by a 65-foot hose. The company offered lessons to intrepid spectators, but most preferred to watch the pros. See more photos from the remarkable demonstration on page 10 (and many more on the HLW Facebook page).
Fran McRedmond, who delighted attendees at the Hill Country Community Theatre’s Talent Show last year with her dramatic reading of Robert Frost’s poem “The Host of the Storm,” will follow that performance with “The Shooting of Dan McGrew.” This year’s Talent Show will feature two performances: at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday (August 17) and at 2:15 p.m. on Sunday.

The Llano County Historical Museum will host a special "Citizens at Last - The Women’s Suffrage Movement in Texas" exhibit, on loan from Humanities Texas, from August 21 to September 14. It will be accompanied by exhibits on the Llano Women’s Culture Club, Women in Llano Government, and other Notable Llano County Women to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the passing of the Nineteenth Amendment (which gave women the right to vote). A free movie (“Iron Jawed Angels”) will be shown at the Llano Library at 7 p.m. on Friday, August 23 (popcorn and drinks will be served). There will also be a luncheon at 11 a.m. on Saturday, August 24, at the Llano ISD Community Room, with a luncheon menu (entered by Kevin Baile) and live music. Llano Suffragettes will also be there with signs and banners and stories. Luncheon tickets are $15 and must be purchased ahead of time. The museum’s normal hours are 10 – 4, Wednesday through Saturday.

Fall Creek Vineyards, (1822 CR 222, Llano) will hold its 30th Annual HarvestFest from 11 to 5 on Saturday, August 24. The event will feature live music by Grammy-winner Alex Harvey. A fundraiser benefit for Kaylee Bennight, who is battling Hodgkin’s Lymphoma, will be held at the Burnet fairgrounds beginning at 2 p.m. on Saturday, August 24. The event will include (Continued on page 23).
When I heard that Congressman Roger Williams was planning a visit to Numinous Coffee Roasters in Marble Falls, I printed out a copy of this photo, taken at the Bridge Re-Opening in Kingsland on May 24, and got him to autograph it. I have a collection of autographs, ranging from as-yet unknown authors to very famous people like Johnny Cash, Ray Price, Kinky Friedman and Darrell K. Royal.

Scatterthought

It's Back-to-School time, but that certainly doesn't mean summer is over. After a relatively mild June and July, August feels VERY hot to me. Maybe I should have put off my vacation for a week or two.

Even though I'm trying to stay in the air conditioning as much as possible, I've still been having a lot of fun. I think one of the most interesting events was the "hydroflying" demonstration at WakuPoint LBI. I had seen an amateur fooling around with one of those water-powered backpacks on Lake Marble Falls a couple of years ago, but the guy from Aquashot (at WakuPoint) made it look very interesting. If I was younger, I think I might try to learn.

Even with a few interesting photo ops, the weekend was a little slower than usual (being the "dog days" of summer), and I decided that I had space for a history article this week (see "Kingsland in January 1973," on page 6). There were several places mentioned in the 1973 papers that I have heard of before, but I wanted to stick with what the old papers said, rather than adding my own "guesses." I'm pretty sure, for instance, that the West grocery store eventually became the "old" H.E.B., and that Vassar is now the Kingsland Health & Fitness Center. I also believe that Highland Car Parts was in the building across from KHEF, that People's Savings & Loan built the building where M&M donuts is now located, and that United Industries was in the building now known as El Bracero Mexican Restaurant (but I may be wrong on one of those theories, so I left them out of my "history" article).

I have twice before agreed to be part of the (so-called) "Talent Show" at Hill Country Community Theatre in Cottonwood Shores. Neither of those ventures was disastrous, so I tried out once again this year without stopping to think that this was a bigger commitment than in previous years. Apparently the talent show was such a big success last year that Executive Director Mike Rademaker is planning two performances this year! Fortunately, I will be near the beginning of the show, and I'll be able to leave early if there are other events that I need to cover. Shows will be held on Saturday, August 17 (7 p.m. and Sunday, August 18 (2:15 p.m.)

I have a few other things to mention, so I'll try to quit rambling right now. The Highland Lakes Service League wants to remind all charitable 501(c)(3) organizations in Llano and Burnet Counties that applications are being accepted for their Community Grants Program now through August 31. All application materials and information are on the HLSL website: www.hlsl.org/whatwedo/ grants. If you have questions or need further information please contact us at grants.hlsl@gmail.com.

The Burnet VFW Auxiliary 6974 is collecting school supplies this month (or cash donations to purchase needed school supplies) at the Post. In September the Auxiliary will join the VFW Post to participate in the POW/MIA ceremony at Fort Hood. They will then celebrate the birthday of the Veterans of Foreign Wars organization with a party at the post. A Family Freedom Festival will be held on Saturday, October 19, to promote patriotism and connect with families of veterans and active-duty service members. The Auxiliary also participates in VFW activities such as Bingo on Mondays and Thursdays. Call Kat Carter for details (317-654-9616) if you'd like to help or participate.

Work continues steadily at the Kingsland Community Park, which was devastated not only by last October’s flood, but by the flood recovery work which was based there for several months. New boat docks, sidewalks, curbs and grass have recently been installed.

The former location of Jr’s Tex-Mex, next to the Kingsland post office, is being expanded and refurbished as the “B&B Drive-Thru,” which will serve breakfast burritos, burgers and other menu items to drive-through customers. The owner of the new business is Mike Davis, who also owns “The Pizza Box,” next to the Kingsland School.

Alfredo’s Mexican Restaurant re-opened on Monday with a much-improved parking lot after the Suarez family returned from a two-week vacation.

By JOHN HALLEWELL

A January article in the Highlander reported that bank deposits in the Highland Lakes area nearly doubled in 1972, a record increase of 28% in 1972. Leading the way was Kingsland’s Highland Lakes National Bank, whose deposits had increased 40.8% in 1972 to reach a total of $22,121,000. Not far behind was the Home State Bank in Marble Falls, with $18,756,000, but Burnet’s First State Bank ($10.2m) and Llano’s Moore State Bank ($10.4m) both had less than half the Kingsland bank’s total. Developers Wayne and Norman Hard, of Horsehoe Bay, paid $2.5 million for Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Wemmel’s 2,280-acre ranch on the south shore of Lake LBJ. The ranch surrounded Blue Lake and Deerhaven, covering most of the area from Horsehoe Bay to Sandy Harbor.

Overall construction expenditures in Burnet and Llano Counties had declined in 1972, but the number of permits issued for future building had increased slightly, from 144 to 150. Ads placed by Kingsland stores provided some insight into the cost of groceries and clothing in 1973. Vasser’s Food Market advertised boneless brisket for $9.00 a pound, five pounds of sugar for 49 cents and potatoes for 9 cents a pound. Two cans of Campbell’s tomato soup cost only 29 cents, while Campbell’s pork & beans cost 19 cents per can. The West grocery store offered (by the pound) oranges for 12 cents, bananas for 10 cents, soft margarita for 39 cents, bacon 89 cents, chuck roast 79 cents and sliced ham 59 cents. Orange juice was five cents for a dollar.

The Packard Western & Sports Wear store offered special "Free Shipping" prices on flannel shirts ($7.50), denim shirts ($5.95), "Hopscotch Jeans" ($7.50), Levi denim jackets ($5.95), L.L. Bean $10.50, Ladies’ coats were $15.50 or $23.50.

Another ad offered "Beautiful resort retirement home" by H.B. Zachry Co. (of San Antonio) in the new Comanche Ranches subdivision. While no prices were listed in the advertisement, buyers could ask for lake or hill country views, paved streets, boat launch ramp and dock, private park area, no thru traffic, off main highway, underground utilities, cable TV, street lights, central heat and air conditioning, insulation, cathedral ceilings, carpet in 40% of the house, hardwood tile floor in kitchen, vent hood, refrigerator & stove, and washable vinyl wall-covering in most of the house.

Carson Real Estate offered a 2BR/1BA brick home on a "beautiful waterfront lot with pecan trees" for $225,000, a new 3BR/2BA brick waterfront home with central air and heat for $335,000 and a furnished 3BR/2BA waterfront home in Kingsland Estates, with carport and a 2- stall boathouse with electric lifts for $375,000.

"Bob Jones, Realtor" ("on the curve in Kingsland" - Hwy 1431) offered a "one-story ranch style building fronting on Highway 1431" as an "income-producing property" available for $29,900 with a "low down payment" and owner financing.

People’s Savings & Loan, from Llano, purchased 15 acres on FM 1431 from local rancher Neal Wood for "a commercial development on the highway, with the remainder of the property to be utilized for a residential community."

The front-page article in the Highlander reported that representatives of People’s will appear in Austin on January 20 for a public hearing on the branch office request.

An article in the "Kingslander" section that week reported that Highland Car Parts, which had been closed for quite some time due to the top of the front page in the Hill Country.

An article from December told how Johnny Nettos’s "United Industries" business was booming. In addition to wholesale and retail sales of appliances, the business offered "home protective systems" -- alarm of fire or burglary, and "a full line of stereo tape, LP albums and 45 rpm records."

United Industris had been in business for six-and-a-half years, three years at its new 4,600 sq.-ft. building on FM 1431.

The January 25 Highlander was mostly devoted to the memory of Kingsland’s most famous neighbor, former President Lyndon Baines Johnson, who died three days before. A black-bordered notice at the top of the front page informed readers that city offices in Llano, Burnet and Marble Falls would be closed that day to observe a "National Day of Mourning" for the nation’s 36th President.

That same issue of the paper reported that the Kingsland American Legion Post #437 was continuing to grow and add improvements to its building. A new concrete walkway had been poured in front of the building the previous week; the Auxiliary Unit had reached its membership goal, and the post had "double its quota, and now has 182 paid members and is a leader in the Department of Texas."

Hushpuppy is a sweet gal that’s had a hard life, even though she’s only about 1 year old. She needs some love and affection and a wonderful forever home. She weighs around 35 pounds and is a black lab mix. Because she hasn’t been properly socialized, she’s pretty shy around people, but is doing much better and is not aggressive. She has fun playing with other dogs and has a good attitude. She’s being medicated for stage 1 heartworms and her prognosis is good. If you’re that special and loving person that can foster or adopt Hushpuppy and make her feel as special as she is, please contact Llano Animal Rescue at 325-247-4963, email us at llanoanimalrescue@gmail.com, or like us on Facebook.
