I was taking pictures at the Market Day on Main in Marble Falls last Saturday when a young lady invited me to pose for a picture in this flashy red convertible. The sign on the side says that if you sign a lease for an apartment in the new Panther Hollow complex, you could win the car in a drawing!

According to my calendar, Fall is here, my thermometer disagrees! So far, the only signs of Fall that I have seen have been decorations at Kingsland Florist (and a few other places) and the amazing “Harvest of Fall Fun” at Sweet Berry Farm. Even then, the temperature was around 100 degrees as I walked around the scarecrow trail.

But regardless of the high temperatures, the calendar is full of great Fall activities (Humphry Dumpy would be proud!)! You’ll see some of them in the “Upcoming Events” article starting on page 2, but (given my spotty record in recent weeks) don’t depend on me to have ALL of them listed.

One of the events that deserves more than just a brief listing is Burnet’s Art Festival/Octoberfest/Fort Crogan Day, which runs from October 9-13. The Art Festival starts on Wednesday, October 9, and is a three-day painting event. That means that Plein Air artists will be all over our area looking for great scenes to paint in preparation for the upcoming competition. If you have a unique and interesting scene that you’d like to see painted, please send a picture and your contact information to artburnet@gmail.com. The organizers would love to hear from you, and may be able to add your location to the map which is distributed to the Plein Air artists.

Octoberfest begins at 10 a.m. on Friday, October 11, at the carnival grounds (League and Vanderveer Streets). It will feature live music (including evening performances by Rick Trevino and Stoney LaRue) and Kids activities, a 5K Run, a Classic Car Show, Artisans & Vendors, Local Craft Breweries, Hill Country Wineries and more.

Then, on Saturday, the grounds of old Fort Crogan will come to life when local volunteers re-enact historical activities at Fort Crogan Day (from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.)

The Llano Library has programs for children all through October, with Monday FunDay at 4 p.m. each Monday (except Columbus Day) and Children’s Storytime at 10 a.m. each Thursday. Teen Teenie lp is every Tuesday from 4 - 5:30 p.m. when school is in session. On Tuesday, October 22, the Library will sponsor its annual Historical Cemetery Tours program, with costumed volunteers narrating the stories of prominent Llano residents who were buried there. This year’s program will feature early members of the Llano Woman’s Culture Club (who founded Llano’s first library); tours will begin every 15 minutes from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m.

Other great October events include the Classic Boat Show at Horseshoe Bay Marina and a host of Halloween-themed activities, including a Game Day at Buchanan Arts and Crafts on October 15 and a “Nightmare Corridor” haunted house program to be presented in Kingsland on five separate nights by the Yellow Jacket Theatre group from Llano High School.

Hopefully, the weather will have moderated slightly by the end of October. I used to tell people during the summer months that I couldn’t wait for October to arrive. Now, after several disappointing years (when October was still way too hot for my liking), I just try to hang in there until November.

So that’s my game plan. I’ll try to hang in there and do the best I can for the rest of this hot summer, then I will bask in the cool air for most of the next few months and try not even to THINK of next summer. I find that it’s a struggle every summer week to get everything done with my bigger paper; I hope that I’ll have a smoother routine before next summer arrives.

Commander Mike Wheeler addresses the audience at a ceremony honoring three Boys State attendees (who were sponsored by the Kingsland American Legion Post #437) last Saturday morning.

Kingsland Garden Club officers Sharon Marshall, Mary Ann Atwood and Renee Case presented the club’s “Beautification” award for October to Arnold Blomdahl of Wakepoint LBJ on Monday.

The building and parking lot at Kingsland Community Church were already filled with donated items by Tuesday for the huge rummage sale to be held there this weekend (see ad on page 4).

Free-lance artist and computer consultant Rodney Brainard is a well-known “regular” at The Lazy Heron Coffee House, across from H.E.B. on RR 2900 in Kingsland. He does some of his best work there, including some remarkable drawings which are available for sale. If he isn’t there when you stop by, you can see a few of his masterpieces there hanging on the wall.
The Circus comes to town

The Carson & Barnes Circus came to the grounds of the Kingsland Community Center for two shows on Tuesday, and good crowds were there to watch. The first half of the show featured acts of incredible agility, strength and skill by brightly costumed performers (at right and below), plus good-humored interactions with the audience. The circus also included elephants, ponies and a petting zoo.

It is closed on Wednesdays and open only from 11 to 5 on Sundays, but open other days from 8:30 to 5:30 until November 10.

The weather was mostly good this year at Burnet’s Kids Day Out, and the event was once again held in back of the YMCA on Hwy 281S. Everything was free, of course, but many attendees brought canned goods to donate to the food bank. Activities included bounce houses, archery and dance lessons (pictured on this page), plus a climbing wall, rides, fishing, face-painting and tours of city equipment. Free hot dogs and water were provided for all guests.

Kids Day Out!

A few raindrops were not enough to dampen the spirits of the youngsters enjoying Kids Day Out in Burnet on Saturday.

The Highland Lakes Genealogy Society invites you to its 30th ANNIVERSARY celebration at 2 p.m. on Tuesday, October 8, in the large meeting room of the Kingsland Library.

Founded as the Kingsland Genealogical Society by Muriel Jackson, Ruth Averitt, Lily Walker and Marie McCullough (with an attendance of fourteen others), HLGS set out to search and document ancestral records and provide resources to others. The first two presidents of KGS, Dorothy Estes and Colleen Kenyon, will share some history and highlights from those early years at the October 8 event. Ms. Kenyon will sign copies of the book, ‘Families of Early Kingsland and Nearby Communities in Llano and Burnet Counties.’

Our meetings feature educational programs: some historical and some about genealogical tools.

Cake will be provided by HLGS.

*Membership is open to the public; Annual dues are $30 for individuals; $40 for married couples. Text or Call Shirley for more info 930-385-7070
